Eyston Sets Auto Speed Record at 357.5 M.P.H.

Bettors Mark Made Yesterday by Cobb, Who Will Rest a Year

One Run 358.57

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP)—The world automobile speed record tumbled here again today as Capt. George E. T. Eyston regained the title John R. Cobb captured yesterday. The new mark is 357.5 miles per hour.

Eyston, retired British army officer, drove his powerful "Thunderbolt" through the mile at 356.44 miles per hour on the north run and returned at 358.57 miles per hour to displace Cobb's record of 350, established only 24 hours ago on this white course.

Cobb, wealthy London fur broker, was timed at 353.29 and 347.16 on the two runs.

Eyston, who hoisted his own average from 311.42 to 345.49 August 27—only to see the astonishing achievement excelled by his compatriot, obviously held back until the chips were down.

NO RUN BY COBB
Cobb announced he was through racing for this year, and extended his congratulations to his rival.

"After due deliberation we have decided to abandon further quest for the world land speed record so far as this visit is concerned," he said, adding his car had been built for a definite objective (presumably 350 miles per hour) and he had attained it.

Eyston, however, said he might try again next week to better his own mark.

Eyston, black from brake dust and exhaust smoke, smiled boyishly when informed he once more had ascended the coveted world speed throne.

A crowd estimated at approximately 5,000 persons, largest ever to assemble on the dry lake bed on the Utah-Nevada border, cheered wildly as the graying Englishman received the tidings.

The southward or second run was the fastest land speed ever timed. At 358.57 miles per hour, the daring driver did the mile in 10.04 seconds.

KILOMETER RECORD
The captain also smashed Cobb's kilometre record, lifting the mark from 350.07 miles per hour to 357.34.

"It was the most pleasant run I've ever made," Eyston said. "On the return, however, it got devilish hot in the cockpit because I closed in the front of the car and I didn't get the benefit of a radiator. Using a mixture to prevent freezing, water and dry ice in the radiator worked admirably."

Voters' List Will Close September 30

Citizens wishing to secure registration on the 1938-39 civic voters' list were advised by M. F. Hunter, city clerk, today that only two weeks remained in which to have their names recorded.

Owing to changes in municipal regulations, the names are taken this year only until the end of September, and not the end of October as in previous years.

Property owners are placed on the list automatically. Those householders and licensees whose names were registered last year and who are still qualified also will remain on the list. All others must file a declaration at the city clerk's office prior to 5 in the afternoon of September 30.

THE WEATHER

VICTORIA 8 a.m. today—Pressure is comparatively high in British Columbia and low in the Far North. The weather has been fine and quite warm over the interior of this province, but rain has occurred on the north coast. Fair, moderately warm weather prevails in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Victoria—Barometer, 30.00; temperature, max. 66, min. 52; calm; clear.
Vancouver—Barometer, 30.00; temperature, max. 70, min. 52; calm; clear.
Prince Rupert—Barometer, 30.00; temperature, max. 60, min. 54; wind, 4 miles N.W.; precip. 24; raining.
San Francisco—Barometer, 30.00; temperature, max. 66, min. 50; wind, 10 miles S.W.; cloudy.

CZECHS ENFORCE MARTIAL LAW—Scenes like the above have been repeated many times since the Prague government, a few days ago, put military rule into effect in the Sudeten areas bordering Germany in an effort to end disorders. The picture, flown to London and radioed to this continent, shows uniformed gendarmes arresting Nazi rioters in the town of Most, near the boundary of Saxony.

CZECHS MASS DEFENCE FORCES—The Prague government was rushing more troops toward the region near Germany when the above picture was taken. The government had shortly before bluntly refused to consider a six-hour ultimatum from Sudeten Leader Henlein. The photo was radioed across the Atlantic.

R. W. MAYHEW, M.P., OFF TO OTTAWA

To Discuss Matters Affecting Victoria at Dominion Capital

R. W. Mayhew, M.P. for Victoria will leave here Monday night for Ottawa.

Mr. Mayhew said he has several matters affecting the riding to discuss with the authorities in the federal capital.

Chief among these is the question of a new federal marine building in Victoria. Suggested sites for the structure have been inspected by members of the cabinet in visits here this summer and it is hoped that definite action will soon be decided.

Mr. Mayhew expects to be away from the city about a month. He will be accompanied east by his daughter, Jean, who will attend college in the east.

CARPENTERS' WAGE MINIMUM SET

A minimum wage for carpenters in Victoria and Lower Island districts put into effect in February, 1937, has had an exceptionally good effect in stabilizing the building trades and correcting abuses in various other construction occupations.

Following up this experience the Board of Industrial Relations today set a minimum of 75 cents an hour for journeymen carpenters in the Greater Vancouver and New Westminster areas. It is effective November 7.

Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, said the minimum had the approval of both labor and contractors and should be a stabilizing factor in the construction industry generally.

Board officials said the Victoria order had done a great deal of good for employees in building occupations. On September 1 the general contractors here voluntarily raised their standard to 80 cents an hour, although the minimum calls for only 70 cents, they said.

Hitler Asks Wide Control of Czechs

After Sudeten Anschluss He Would Direct Skoda Arms Sales

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER Associated Press Foreign Staff

BERLIN — Chancellor Hitler was said today to have demanded both cession to Germany of Czechoslovakia's Sudeten area and binding assurances that Czechoslovakia's foreign policy should be in harmony with that of Germany.

This information was volunteered by a man who talked to high chancellery officials at Berchtesgaden, where Hitler received Prime Minister Chamberlain of Great Britain yesterday.

Czechoslovakia has defensive alliances with France and Soviet Russia, which is a target of the German-Italian-Japanese anti-Communist pact.

MUNITIONS CONTROL

Another German demand, this source said, was that after German absorption of the Czechoslovak Sudeten area, what is left of that republic should fit itself into Germany's economic system.

Germany, for instance, must have the decisive word to say on the output of the great Skoda munitions works at Pilsen and the destination of this output, the source said.

(Pilsen, in the part of the pre-war Austro-Hungarian Empire given to Czechoslovakia with the Sudeten German Area, is in Bohemia. It borders on Sudetenland but is not part of it. The Skoda plants, moreover, have been distributed throughout Czechoslovakia.)

The question of union of the Sudeten area with Germany, this informant said, is not even regarded as an issue by Hitler.

POINTS OF PROCEDURE
It was said to have been Hitler's starting point in discussions, with all other questions, such as procedure under which the change could be effected without war, growing out of it.

Mr. Chamberlain, it was said, apparently came prepared to concede some form of "anschluss."

Whether Britain and France were prepared to support Hitler's virtual demand for a German protectorate over Czechoslovakia was believed to have been the question which prompted Mr. Chamberlain's sudden return to London.

Although German and British officials decline to disclose the nature of the talks and the status of negotiations, there was popular belief some hitch had developed.

Raiders Kill 29 At Barcelona

Spanish Insurgent Fliers Wound 114 in Attack On Port Section

BARCELONA (AP)—Twenty-nine persons were killed and 114 wounded today when three squadrons of Spanish insurgent planes dumped heavy loads of bombs on the Barcelona port section.

The British collier Lake Hall, will of London was struck by bomb fragments, but no one was hurt.

Menaced, but untouched, was the United States freighter Wisconsin of Portland, Ore. Officers of the ship said she also had been attacked off Palamos yesterday afternoon, a single bomber dropping six projectiles, which fell wide of the mark.

TRENCHES NEAR PRAGUE—Pictured above are soldiers swinging picks as they dig defenses in the vicinity of the Czechoslovakian capital.

Canada's M.P.'s Urged to Meet

Trades and Labor Congress Ask Parliament Be Called to Decide Dominion's Policy If Europe Goes to War

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today passed a resolution demanding that Parliament be called without delay to decide Canada's policy in the event of a European war.

The congress added the demand to a resolution stating "that our government be urged to co-operate with other peace-loving countries of the world in whatever steps are deemed essential to destroy the reign of terror being imposed by Nazi and Fascist dictators, and thus remove the menace of international lawlessness, and once more bring peace to mankind."

The resolution adopted was substituted for one calling for a referendum before Canada should commit itself to a war.

Speaker after speaker favored a "Stop Hitler Movement," and one suggested seeking the aid of German, Italian and Japanese workers to halt war.

David Wolfe of Montreal warned against war hysteria. If the Sudeten Germans wanted to be part of Germany they should, he said. He would rather sacrifice 3,000,000 people than sacrifice billions.

"I want to deny that there is a war hysteria so far as this convention is concerned," said Carl Berg of Edmonton, chairman of the resolutions committee. "If a war does come in defence of democracy of the world against Fascism, my services are at the disposal of this government." He had opposed capitalist wars in the past, he said.

Runciman In London

Central European Situation at Most Delicate Point, Says Mediator Called Home to Report to Cabinet

LONDON (CP-Havas)—"The situation is very delicate. It is on the knees of the gods," Viscount Runciman said late today on his arrival by plane from Prague.

Called by Premier

PRAGUE (CP-Havas)—Before leaving aboard an airliner for London today, Viscount Runciman, unofficial mediator in the Czech dispute, disclosed he had been summoned urgently by Prime Minister Chamberlain.

"Will you come back to Prague?"

"I certainly hope to return," Lord Runciman replied, "but where and when, it is impossible for me to tell you. Everything will depend upon the international negotiations in progress."

"What are your impressions of your stay in Prague?"

"Sometimes they were good, sometimes bad."

"What is the balance, as a whole?"

"The good outweighed the bad," he replied.

Czechoslovak circles derived some satisfaction from the fact that Lady Runciman and the rest of the British mission remained at Prague, an indication Lord Runciman would return.

These decisions were taken as continued disorders in the Sudeten areas coincided with reports of a split between radical and conservative Sudeten factions over Henlein's proclamation of yesterday demanding annexation of the Sudeten country to the German Reich. It was this proclamation that led to the charge of treason against him.

Sudetens Ordered to Disband

Reports Heard Henlein Party Split Into Factions Before Government Announced It Is Dissolved

PRAGUE (AP)—Premier Milan Hodza's office announced tonight that the Sudeten German party had been dissolved by the Czechoslovak government.

Previously informed sources said the government had decided on suppression of the uniformed storm troops of the Sudeten leader, Konrad Henlein, who had fled into Germany from a war-rant for his arrest on charges of treason.

These decisions were taken as continued disorders in the Sudeten areas coincided with reports of a split between radical and conservative Sudeten factions over Henlein's proclamation of yesterday demanding annexation of the Sudeten country to the German Reich. It was this proclamation that led to the charge of treason against him.

Disappointment Among Germans

Regret Hitler Did Not Pledge Peace in Talk With Chamberlain

By LOUIS LOCHNER Associated Correspondent

BERLIN—Despite editorial excitement over conditions in Sudetenland, Hitler today seemed determined to await results of Prime Minister Chamberlain's conference with his cabinet before taking the next step.

This correspondent spent several hours today talking to average citizens on Berlin's streets—such as a barber, a building worker, a masseur, a building contractor, an electrician and a traveling salesman.

One and all, they expressed disappointment that the official communiqué from Berchtesgaden had been so meagre, stating only that there has been a "frank exchange of views" and that "a new conversation will take place within a few days."

All had pinned their hopes on Mr. Chamberlain, for the average German still remembers the Great War too vividly to desire armed conflict.

Chamberlain Reads Letter From King

LONDON (AP)—A four-page letter from the King, written in His Majesty's own handwriting, was handed to Prime Minister Chamberlain on his arrival at Heston airport today after conferring with Chancellor Hitler in Bavaria.

The Prime Minister read it slowly and turned to make a guarded comment to Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary.

The letter was in a black-bordered envelope as the King is in mourning for his cousin, the late Prince Arthur of Connaught.

NEW ZEALAND ELECTION OCT. 15

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP-Reuters)—Prime Minister Michael Savage today announced a general election would be held October 15.

The Labor Party has been in power since late in 1935, when it won 53 of 80 seats in the House of Representatives and took office for the first time in the Dominion's history. Adam Hamilton, former Postmaster-General, is leader of the opposition party.

During its three years in office the Labor government has sponsored a wide-spread program of socialistic legislation which will form the principal issue of the electoral campaign.

Each Understands Other's Aims, Says Premier in London

BIG CROWD CHEERS

LONDON (AP)—The Cabinet tonight was summoned to meet at 11 a.m. (2 a.m., P.S.T.) tomorrow to hear the report Prime Minister Chamberlain brought back by air from his momentous peace talk with Chancellor Hitler.

Mr. Chamberlain arranged to see the King at 9.30 tonight.

The Prime Minister at that time already had conferred with the "inner cabinet"—Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary, and Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary.

A crowd that jammed the roofs of the Hendon airport and surged against its gates cheered as the Prime Minister stepped from the airliner at 5.29 in the afternoon (8.29 a.m., P.S.T.) after his flight home from Germany. There were shouts of "Bravo" and "Good Old Neville," but whether he achieved any success in efforts to talk Hitler out of going to war over Czechoslovakia he refused to say.

The Prime Minister read a brief statement into a microphone, which carried his words to distant crowds. With Viscount Halifax he then sped off to 10 Downing Street, where he met the "inner cabinet."

Daladier May Visit London

Reported French Premier Plans Conference on Chamberlain-Hitler Talks

PARIS (AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier was reported today to be planning a week-end flight to London to confer on Prime Minister Chamberlain's efforts to solve the European crisis in personal talks with Chancellor Hitler.

Today the Premier and his foreign minister, Georges Bonnet, were luncheon guests of United States Ambassador William Bullitt, and M. Bonnet conferred with the British ambassador, Sir Eric Phipps.

No statement was issued to give any indication what they had discussed.

Mr. Chamberlain's return to London from Berchtesgaden after only one conference with Hitler yesterday was described in semi-official circles as an unexpected shock. The only hopeful sign they could see was a German announcement that a new interview between the statesmen was expected, perhaps next week.

HE EXPLAINS

There were cheers and laughter when Mr. Chamberlain, explained the "half way" remark thus: "He wishes to spare an old man another such long journey."

The crowds cheered lustily as the Prime Minister finished his short speech, read from notes evidently made en route. He smiled and waved his hand to the people amid shouts of "bravo!"

Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, was among those who greeted Mr. Chamberlain at Heston.

The German charge d'affaires, Dr. Kordt, also stepped forward and greeted the Prime Minister with the words:

"I hope you feel that you have been successful—at any rate you have conquered the hearts of my countrymen."

Mr. Chamberlain replied: "They were very kind to me and I had a great time."

LONDON (CP)—After the return of Prime Minister Chamberlain today it was indicated Godesberg would be the scene of a second meeting between Mr. Chamberlain and Chancellor Hitler within the next few days.

Prayers in Canada For European Peace

TORONTO (CP)—A joint call to prayer for the peace of Europe is being issued by the heads of the Protestant churches in Canada today. The call is issued by Most Rev. Derwyn T. Owen, Primate of the Church of England in Canada; Rt. Rev. Dr. Peter Bryce, Moderator of the United Church of Canada, and Rev. Dr. H. H. Bingham, president of the Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec. The Presbyterian Church in Canada is also joining in the appeal.

Records Asked at Ontario Probe

Suspended Head of London Mental Hospital Asks Patients' Histories

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Counsel for Dr. G. H. Stevenson, suspended superintendent of the Ontario Hospital here, declared today to the royal commission investigating Ontario mental hospitals he would show that John R. Green, St. Thomas lawyer whose charges precipitated the probe, was insane "at this moment."

Demanding access to the record of Green and other patients whose complaints might be put forward by Green, Attorney A. M. Lebel declared: "We propose to show that Green is at this moment insane, that he was insane at 6 o'clock last night."

Lebel made his assertion when the commission counsel, Eric Silk of Toronto, was about to call as a witness Dr. James R. McGeoch, acting superintendent of the London hospital. Lebel insisted all files on London cases be made available to Dr. Stevenson, who desired immediate reinstatement.

The hearing was adjourned until Monday afternoon when it was expected Green would be the first witness.

Lebel said the commission counsel had refused to supply him with a copy of complaints or charges against Dr. Stevenson. Clifford R. Magone, commission chairman, ruled Dr. McGeoch's evidence might be heard, subject to later objection by Lebel.

The commission, whose other members are Lionel Conacher, Liberal M.P.P. for Toronto-Brampton, and Dr. William H. Avery, opened its second sitting with Dr. R. K. Grey, solicitor to the Ontario health department, on the witness stand.

"A voluntary patient may be discharged on judgment of superintendent," Dr. Grey read from the report, "or he may be committed to a private sanatorium."

Asked to describe how a patient could be permitted to leave on probation, the witness said a superintendent could make a release on the responsibility of relatives after six months. In the case of any patient admitted to mental hospitals the public trustee automatically becomes a committee to look after his affairs.

Mr. Lebel, acting for Dr. G. H. Stevenson, questioned Dr. Grey on his statement that discharge was at the discretion of superintendents.

Dr. Grey said that in his opinion the superintendent's discretion would be subject to consent of the minister of health, not through legislation, but by reason of the relationship between the superintendent and the health department.

Police in Vienna Hold Czech Group

VIENNA (AP)—The managing editor of a Vienna Czech language newspaper and 13 other Czechs were arrested today on undisclosed charges.

The editor, Frederick Cepelka of the newspapers Videnski Noviny, also was secretary of the Czech minority in Vienna.

Four of those arrested were later released.

Police dispersed the demonstrators after moving the car into a garage and asking the chauffeur to remove the flag. The other Germans took refuge in a hotel.

Democracies Said To Need Help

Delegates at Canadian Labor Convention State Views on Europe

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—A resolution passed by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today reiterated the belief of the congress in collective action of the League of Nations, but recognized "the need to render help at this hour to those democratic countries whose independence and integrity are now being challenged."

The preamble noted "black clouds of war overhanging the nations in Europe" and said: "No policy has yet been announced on the part of our government pledging support for action against aggressor nations."

The resolution demanded Parliament meet without delay to determine the policy of Canada in the event of a war in Europe.

ECONOMIC STEPS

"We can stop war by a united effort of the common people to make their government take steps to stop it," said Sam Shearer of Vancouver. He suggested Great Britain, France, Russia and the United States put an economic boycott on Fascist countries.

"There is no need for war," he declared. "We can put the fire out by collective security of the four democracies at the present time."

J. A. P. Haydon of Ottawa said Congress policy used to be to call for a referendum before a war.

"It now means we are pledging support to the government in a war against aggressors," said Mr. Haydon, who served in the Great War. "Be sure you mean it. We are going to have conscription and the first thing conscripted will be manpower. Right now, war supplies are being made by private industries who are profiting by it. I have two boys physically fit. I would hate to see those boys in uniform."

Baldwin Flight Report Unfounded

LONDON (AP)—Although Heston airport officials had said before the arrival of Prime Minister Chamberlain's plane from Germany today that Earl Baldwin, his predecessor as Prime Minister, had boarded the plane at Cologne, Lord Baldwin was not aboard.

Apparently there had been no meeting of Mr. Chamberlain and Lord Baldwin at Cologne although the latter was reported in that vicinity on holiday.

The plane halted for 22 minutes at Cologne.

More Sudeten Plebiscite Talk

LONDON (CP)—Many quarters in London, while Prime Minister Chamberlain's return from Germany was awaited today, took a gloomy view of the results of his conference yesterday with Chancellor Hitler.

Unofficial circles reported Hitler was adamant on one of two alternatives:

1. A plebiscite in Czechoslovakia under his own control.
2. Immediate cession of Sudetenland to Germany.

One disturbing factor, as seen here, was the attitude of the German press this morning in renewing violent attacks on the Czech government almost to the point of "excluding from the front pages Mr. Chamberlain's sudden departure."

OCCUPATION REPORT

LONDON (CP)—A Havas news agency dispatch today said it was reported here Prime Minister Chamberlain was informed by Chancellor Hitler at Berchtesgaden that Germany is prepared for military occupation of the Sudeten German district of Czechoslovakia on October 1 if the crisis has not been solved by that date.

Three Escaped Prisoners Hunted

Two Who Broke Out of Montreal Jail were Quickly Recaptured

MONTREAL (CP)—Five long-term prisoners, armed with rifles and revolvers taken from prison guards, escaped from the Montreal jail in suburban Bordeaux today. Two were recaptured within a few minutes. Lieut.-Col. Redmond Roche, assistant commissioner of provincial police reported.

The assistant commissioner spread a net of officers on neighboring highways in an attempt to capture the three fugitives still at large.

Those recaptured were named Coallier and O'Malley. Prisoners named Gauchon, Leo Tremblay and Jules Legace were still free.

Great Gold Flow To United States

WASHINGTON (AP)—An unprecedented flood of foreign gold—$35,000,000—came into the United States September 14, the Treasury said today.

In the first two weeks of this month the United States Treasury purchased $276,028,315 worth of the yellow metal, or an average of nearly $20,000,000 per day.

Henry Morgenthau, Secretary of the Treasury, said yesterday the "flight to the dollar" caused by the European crisis, was the greatest in history, adding it was not a cause for alarm.

Chinese Deaths In War 1,000,000

GENEVA (AP)—Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese delegate to the League of Nations, told the League Assembly today that no less than 1,000,000 Chinese had been killed since the beginning of war with Japan July 7, 1937. Dr. Koo said 30,000,000 others had been wounded or made homeless.

LABOR HEAD RE-ELECTED

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—P. M. Draper of Ottawa was unanimously re-elected president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada by cheering delegates today. No other name was submitted. He succeeded Tom Moore as president three years ago. Prior to that he was secretary-treasurer for 35 years.

SUPPORT FOR BRITAIN

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP-Havas)—Adam Hamilton, leader of the opposition, today informed Prime Minister Michael Savage that should Great Britain be drawn into a war, the government could count on the full co-operation of the opposition to ensure that New Zealand assumes its full obligations.

Popularity of grass lawns is traced back to the introduction of garden hose and lawn mowers, only two generations ago.

Some Sudetens May Negotiate

PRAGUE (AP)—A reported split today between radical and conservative factions of the Sudetens on the proclamation Konrad Henlein issued yesterday demanding German annexation of the Sudeten area of Czechoslovakia created the possibility one section might accept renewed negotiations with the Prague government.

Otto Ritter, a Sudeten German district leader at Asch, told authorities none of Konrad Henlein's followers had any knowledge Henlein intended issuing the defiant manifesto for union of Sudetenland with the Reich.

A "large" part of the Sudeten German ranks, Ritter declared, were "disagreeably surprised." He gave no indication, however, of how many members were involved.

Semi-official sources in Prague asserted Sudeten deputies, Ernst Kundt, Alfred Rosche and Dr. Wilhelm Sebekowsky, who now are in the capital, might "be induced" to resume talks "in certain circumstances."

There was little else, however, to show any widespread movement away from Henlein. Enthusiasm for the Sudeten German campaign continued in the Sudeten areas.

SASKATOON (CP)—Police dogs will be placed in Royal Canadian Mounted Police service at strategic points throughout Canada in the near future, Commissioner S. T. Wood of Ottawa, head of the R.C.M.P., said in an interview here.

Hungarians Declare Czech Troops Mass

BUDAPEST (AP)—A reliable informant said today Hungary had protested sharply to Czechoslovakia against what was termed Czechoslovak mobilization along the Hungarian frontier.

It was said the Hungarian government probably would take measures to meet the situation, although the Foreign Office official said:

"Hungary will exercise a good deal of patience to remain neutral should an armed conflict start between Germany and Czechoslovakia."

Escaped Man Hunted

EDMONTON (CP)—Royal Canadian Mounted Police and civic police today joined in a hunt for a middle-aged prisoner who escaped from the Fort Saskatchewan jail. Fred Jonassen, 44-year-old worker in the jail blacksmith shop, was discovered missing yesterday.

Commonwealth Changes Debated

Delegates at Sydney Discuss New British-Dominions Relations

Written for the Canadian Press
By Prof. N. A. M. MacKenzie

SYDNEY, N.S.—Different types of relationship must be provided for the Dominions in the future development of the British Commonwealth, some attaining completely sovereign status and some accepting British foreign policy automatically as their own, it was suggested at Thursday's session of the British Commonwealth Relations Conference here.

Some delegates, advocating varying status for the different Dominions, foresaw some Dominions with such control over their foreign policies they might remain neutral when other members of the Commonwealth were at war.

Others favored closer co-operation in the form of an imperial federation, although this was viewed generally as impracticable. There were those, too, who saw advantages in continuation of the present arrangement, with its undefined relationships and responsibilities.

SUGGESTIONS DISCUSSED

A broad range of proposals in Commonwealth development was threshed out during the day, views of the delegates being generally varied. These suggestions included:

Modifying the Ottawa trade agreements by inviting foreign countries to share the benefits, on condition their wages and living standards do not constitute a threat of unfair competition to Commonwealth countries and that they renounce resort to war.

Establishment of a public, unofficial Commonwealth assembly representing all political parties in all Commonwealth affairs, to meet once or twice each year.

Appointment of a liaison officer for each Dominion in the Foreign Office at London.

Submission of all Commonwealth disputes not otherwise settled to the International Court at the Hague.

Creation of a general economic council for the Commonwealth, to study and advise on all questions of trade, finance and industry between the Commonwealth countries.

A river deposits the coarser and heavier part of its load of silt near the river mouth, carrying the finer mud along farther to sea.

Shipments of Planes Started

TORONTO (CP)—The first Canadian military airplane has been shipped to Great Britain. Phil Garratt, managing director of DeHavilland Aircraft of Canada Limited, reporting the fact yesterday, said more than 200 planes to be built here would be shipped in the near future.

"A total of 200 training ships are included in the order," said Mr. Garratt. "The airplanes are not being sent over complete, but essential parts such as undercarriage and centre sections are shipped to our factory in England, where they are assembled. This will be the plan for the entire 200 ships we are building."

It will be two years, Mr. Garratt believes, before Canadian factories planned by the British air mission to Canada are producing completed military planes.

Fall Fair Ends At Ladysmith

Annual Display Is Opened By House Members

LADYSMITH — Exhibits of produce and handicraft from residents of this district were on display at the two-day Ladysmith Fall Fair which closed last night. The entry list was somewhat smaller than last year, but was none the less appreciated by the hundreds who attended.

J. S. Taylor, M.P.P. and Samuel Guthrie, M.P.P., performed the opening ceremonies and spoke of the fine spirit and effort that made the fair possible.

Thomas Honeyman won the E. W. Forward Cup for the second time for his wide display of flowers.

J. D. Wilson took the Bank of Commerce Trophy and the Walkem Cup for the best aggregate in fruit and vegetable produce. J. A. Hartley, tied in points with the winner, took second place on a technical point.

S. Guthrie dominated the pen-and-ink and pencil section, while Ray McMurtrie displayed a fine bow and arrow carved and strung from local materials.

Several fine ship and boat models attracted attention, while two of the elementary school grades had an interesting exhibit of soap carving.

Effects of the long, dry season, not obvious in the flower display, was more in evidence in the orchard and field produce, and the usual crowded competition in these classes was absent.

BUTTERNUTS SHOWN

One oddity in the display was a plateful of butternuts, entered by Miss D. Bryant. They were shown here for the first time, and one of the judges remarked this was the first time he had come across them in the smaller fairs in years of covering the fall fair circuit.

Manual crafts and poster work represented by efforts from higher grade pupils, were generally excellent, while the tendency of former years to go far abroad for poster inspiration was displaced by a desire to deal with local realities such as logging, scenery and the preservation of Vancouver Island wild life.

The women's sections were smaller than usual.

The poultry section, conducted in an adjacent building, attracted considerable interest from large numbers, and held fine examples of the most popular show and pen birds.

NEW SECRETARY

TORONTO (CP)—Appointment of John R. Baldwin of McMaster University, Hamilton, Ont., as national secretary of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, was announced yesterday. He succeeds Escott Reid of Toronto, who occupied the position since its creation in 1932. Mr. Baldwin was a Canadian secretary at the 1936 California conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations.

STOMACH SUFFERER RECOVERS APPETITE

"It's grand to be able to enjoy what I eat!" Mrs. C. S. Boinevain, Man., who wrote this bubbling-over-with-happiness line, had been on a strict milk diet after eight years of intense suffering from disordered digestion. Now, she writes, she is able to eat and enjoy almost anything without any fear of pain. What made the difference? It was Maclean Brand Stomach Powder.

This great stomach ailment treatment is a perfect balance of the same four alkalies prescribed by stomach specialists. These powerful alkalies relieve even severe stomach pain very rapidly because of their quick neutralizing effect on excess acid. But they do more. They spread a soothing coating over inflamed stomach walls so that the stomach is helped to restore itself to normal health. Take this simple home treatment for your digestive disorder. Get Maclean Brand Stomach Powder from your druggist. Look for the signature "Alan C. Maclean" which must appear on every bottle and carton. Maclean Brand Stomach Powder is only genuine with this signature. Sold only in bottles in cased, 75c. Never sold loose.

Policies Drive Trade From Maritime Ports

Harbor Board Bureaucracy Works to Force
Shipping Elsewhere

This article is the last in the series which the Ottawa correspondent of the Victoria Times, following a visit of first-hand investigation, has been writing on the background of Maritime politics.

By NORMAN MACLEOD

OTTAWA—Down in Halifax a luxury liner lies moored to a wharf that is so devoid of activity that it might be a marine graveyard. That luxury liner cost the people of Canada several millions of dollars to build. It operated for only a short time on the Pacific Coast between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle. Now it is idle and fast rusting into decay.

An important chapter in the story of Maritime grievances is mutely yet dramatically revealed by the spectacle of that idle luxury liner and the nearly idle port in which it is rusting.

For that liner should be busy. Maritime interests have urged for months on end that it should be placed in a Montreal-Halifax cruise service which, in addition to giving employment to Canadian sailors, would teach Canadians themselves what they apparently do not yet know, namely, that Canada's Eastern seacoast has scenic vacation attractions with which the crowded beaches of Maine and the Eastern United States cannot begin to compare.

HARBOR FACILITIES IDLE

That somnolent harbor in which the luxury liner is rusting should be a picture of shipping industry. Successive governments have spent upwards of $25,000,000 to make it so. Subsequently, however, they have turned around and adopted policies calculated to destroy its business. It is doubtful if there ever has been a greater sabotaging of a major national investment than the failure of the federal government to protect the traffic which the Maritime ports, under adverse circumstances, succeeded in building up.

Presentation of these two points—neglect of her ports and indifference to the development of scenic resources so magnificent that they should mean an annual income of tens of millions of dollars—will complete this series' brief review of the concrete grounds of Maritime political discontent.

The harbor of Halifax, it is perhaps necessary to inform Canadians in upper and western Canada, is the finest port on the North Atlantic seaboard. The largest vessels can enter it without even bothering with tug service if they so desire 365 days a year. Its wharfage accommodation is, to say the least, ample. It is equipped to berth three Queen Marys, end on end. And, as already mentioned, upwards of $25,000,000 has been spent from the national treasury on making it modern in every respect. Elevator, storage and switching facilities are the most up-to-date known to present-day traffic engineering.

FIT FOR A QUEEN MARY

When the writer saw the port a few weeks ago, there were a couple of tramp steamers leisurely unloading cargo. That was all. Equipment provided on the scale of Queen Marys, and a whole fleet of tramps at the one time was finding no other use than these two vessels gave it. The cargo which they were unloading was foreign bituminous coal—coal of a character directly competitive with Nova Scotia's own product—and with Pictou County and Cape Breton mines averaging only from two to four days a week. A huge mountain of these "coals to Newcastle" which was piled on the shore testified to many previous shipments that had been unloaded. Experts on the mining industry of the Maritimes have estimated that if the bituminous coal which has been allowed to enter Canada in recent years had been excluded by a policy of protection such as industries in upper Canada enjoy, Nova Scotian and New Brunswick mines would have been able to operate on full time.

CAUSE OF DECADENCE

The main question is, however, why facilities provided on such a scale should only have attracted two tramp steamers. True, the Maritime ports are regularly slack during the months the St. Lawrence route is operating. But they have never before been that slack; for this all-time low in activity a definite reason exists.

The reason is two successive steps in government policy. The first was the United States trade treaty back in 1935. When the neighboring republic became a "most favored nation" the necessity of shipping goods from other

"favored nations" directly to Canadian ports in order to obtain the tariff concessions involved automatically disappeared. "Favored nation" rates applied to goods coming in through the United States.

That was the first blow to the Maritime port business. The Eastern ports were reasonably philosophical towards it. They recognized that it was largely unavoidable.

More recently, however, the ports have been placed under the control of the National Harbors Board. That means remote control from Ottawa. It was viewed with suspicion from the first. The suspicion was justified when the federal bureaucrats, with the laudable object ostensibly of making the ports self-supporting, issued a new scale of tariffs and, in addition, imposed top wharfage charges.

FAVOR OTHER PORTS

The effect was almost immediate and definitely disastrous. What the Ottawa authorities failed to realize was that the Maritime ports, in their scale of charges, had not been indulging in "cut-throat" competition with one another. They had been making rates which would include Canadian shipping to use their facilities in preference to the United States ports of New York, Boston, Portland, and Baltimore. And these wharfs charged no top wharfage!

The result is that shipping through Maritime ports has become dearer for Canadian importing and exporting interests than shipping through American ports. And as traffic goes where the rates are cheapest, business is lost to the Maritime ports and to the Canadian railways that need it so badly, and given into United States hands. Longshoremen, railwaymen, and others whom the traffic kept in employment are idle or working only a fraction of full time.

TOURIST TRADE IGNORED

The tourist grievance is less general through the Maritimes, for the reason that you cannot see idle tourist traffic the same as you can see idle ports and idle longshoremen. Among the interests by whom the tourist grievance is held, however, it is held intensely. For they are the Maritimers who realize that in New Brunswick and in Nova Scotia, along the sea-coast, in the inland hills and valleys, along rocky Cape Breton, lies scenery that—so far as the Atlantic sea-coast is concerned—can only be described by the one adjective, "incomparable."

Yet they see Canadians from the upper provinces crowding to the coast of Maine. They see railways offering special vacation fares to Maine, but none to Canada's sea-coast. Gradually the people of the United States are discovering the Maritimes. President Roosevelt has summered there for years and an increasing number of distinguished Americans is each summer realizing the beauties of Nova Scotia and returning annually thereafter. But the campaign that would advertise the Maritimes to Canadians is something that no government so far has prevailed

Hopes and Fears

IT WAS "AUF WIEDERSEHEN" WHEN Prime Minister Chamberlain left Reichsfuehrer Hitler at Berchtesgaden yesterday. The two are expected to meet again in the same spot after the head of the British Government has had an opportunity to report to his colleagues the result of his visit to the Bavarian retreat of the Nazi leader. How much the world will be told in the meantime no prophet can tell.

As far as can be gleaned from today's editorial comment in leading British newspapers a general impression seems to have been created that some formula may be discovered to avert a serious conflict of arms over the Sudeten-German problem in Czechoslovakia. The tendency to attach too much significance to sporadic clashes between Czechs and Germans, to the demands of and various explosive statements from Sudeten chieftain Konrad Henlein, was natural in view of Germany's active military movements along the frontier of the two republics. Comparatively speaking, these are side issues. The point to be borne in mind, however, is that Czechoslovakia—her people and their cause—is to the oligarchy of Berlin 54,244 square miles of territory which must become German property before the policy as laid down in Hitler's Mein Kampf can be pursued to its ultimate conclusion. Yet any attempt to "absorb" that area by force or by intrigue will unquestionably be met with the bitterest kind of armed resistance by the soldiery of the smaller state—even though the 7,000,000 Czechs and the 2,000,000 Slovaks be left in the lurch by those democracies which would be seriously "embarrassed" were the swastika to be flown farther along the "Berlin to Bagdad" road.

The problem with which Mr. Chamberlain and Herr Hitler still have to wrestle, then, would seem to be how to reconcile the preservation of the political and territorial integrity of Czechoslovakia, as guaranteed by the republic's constitution, with demands for partition, which, although primarily made by the Sudeten-German minority within Czechoslovakia, actually are among the requirements of Greater Germany. On this aspect of the problem the Manchester Guardian says: "When one thinks of the intolerable price of war in lives and misery, it would be dirt cheap to pay the cost of transplanting the Sudetens into Germany if there were enough common sense in the world to do it and Germany would consent." To which may be added, of course, the suggestion that a proposal of this kind would oblige Herr Hitler to come out in the open with his real plans. The Conservative Yorkshire Post, as is its wont, flatfootedly supports the contention that "the Sudeten Germans and their grievances, real or imaginary, are no more than a pawn in the Nazi game."

At this distance, nevertheless, it is becoming increasingly clear that if Prime Minister Chamberlain's visit to Berchtesgaden has achieved nothing else so far, it has given the statesmen directly interested in the greater issue of peace or war further time to take stock again of the consequences of armed conflict on a major scale. The peoples of the world demand peace. And hopes for an amicable settlement of Europe's irritating difficulties are running as fervently in the homes of Germany as in the homes of other countries.

Speed Boys

DOWN AT BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS: Captain Eyston to Mr. Cobb—"Your turn next, John. I stand on 357.50 an hour." Mr. Cobb to Captain Eyston: "Have patience, George, and watch my next mile in 10 seconds."

The dialogue is not authentic. It is our own. But it tells the story of today's new speed mark and gives the age of the former new one set yesterday by Mr. Cobb. That was 350.2 miles an hour.

It may be recalled that before Captain Eyston left England for the United States he wrote a special article for the London Daily Mail in which he said: "I shall be tremendously gratified if I see the magic three three—333 m.p.h.—within sight." Well, he saw it, flashed past it, and left it far behind when he surpassed his own previous mark of 311 last year and chalked up 345 m.p.h. a short time ago.

Will Cobb touch 360 miles an hour—a mile in 10 seconds? Is it possible to push today's new record any higher? After all, there is a limit to human endurance, but there seems to be none to human daring. British engineering skill and British pluck, incidentally, are giving a brilliant display down on Bonneville Flats.

The Alaska Highway

FROM WASHINGTON COMES THE INTIMATION that while the status of the proposed British Columbia-Alaska Highway project had not changed, Secretary Ickes, of the United States Department of the Interior, said yesterday he did not think "much interest is being shown at Ottawa." He added that no practical plans for construction of the road had been worked out. Problems in connection with it, he told his weekly press conference, included a method of financing the portion through British Columbia.

An undertaking of this kind, of course, naturally requires a good deal more than perfunctory thought and repetition of the arguments which already have convinced most people that the proposal is economically sound. Much detail has yet to be worked out, not only in respect of its financing and construction, but also in connection with the international considerations involved.

Prime Minister Pattullo and Finance Minister Hart will be in Ottawa shortly, however, and no doubt one of the chief items of business they will discuss with Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Defence Minister Ian Mackenzie will be the project to which United States Secretary of the Interior Ickes has just referred. This proposed highway, if proceeded with, should soon prove of vast economic benefit, under many heads, to British Columbia in particular and Canada and the United States as a whole.

In the Palm of a Hand

FOUR FOREIGN CORRESPONDENTS of high standing in their field have given their opinions on the chances of war.

"How can anyone know the things which answer when so much depends on the incalculable mental processes of one man?" wrote one correspondent.

"Individual opinions," wrote another, in part, "are valueless, for that outcome depends solely upon one man."

The third correspondent wrote of his fear that "Hitler might work himself up into a state that would irrevocably commit his prestige to attacking Czechoslovakia."

"It is a usual French comment," observed the fourth, "that what is to be feared is a gambler's throw, especially by Mussolini."

What does the sum of these suggest? If we believe that history is the private work of arch-villains and arch-heroes, we may find that those observations add up simply to the damnation of one or two individuals. Otherwise, what the sum of them must constitute is a rare and bitter commentary on the resourcefulness of a world that has not yet found a way to protect its peace from a few gamblers.

Familiarity and Awe

A BOUQUET TO THE LADIES, AND from a source that should be particularly gratifying to them: Women, traffic experts declare, are better drivers than men. Just like that.

The chief reasons, according to the experts (men), are an appreciation of the automobile's potentialities as an instrument for destruction—a certain awe and feminine respect for the thing—and an expectation that certain courtesies due their sex will always be forthcoming. This latter habit of mind produces, according to the experts, the companion habit of observing a few courtesies themselves.

A greater measure of awe, or something like it, is sorely needed on the highways. The traffic experts are agreed that man's very familiarity with his car and his consequently casual attitude as a driver are important factors in the national toll of traffic accidents.

It all suggests that a salutary effect on the state of the world might be had by placing women in posts of diplomatic importance. There is a shocking accident toll piling up on the highway of international affairs, and it might be that a little more awe in the "drivers' seats is just the thing that is needed.

Italy is now building hospitals in Addis Ababa. Better late than never.

A strike at an eastern tannery has finally been settled and all the workers have gone back into hiding.

Latest news from European countries seems to indicate it may be months before they actually get down to brass hats.

DON'T EXPECT WAR

From Ottawa Journal

While the news from Europe continues in tones of impending tragedy, the best informed opinion remains firm that war will not come. What is happening now, it is held, is a colossal German bluff, an attempt to terrify and "soften" the Czechs into surrender. The real danger, according to this reasoning, is that the Czechs, refusing to be terrified, declining the concessions that would enable Hitler to make a retreat seem a victory, might call for an act of desperation. This, it is held further, is the real explanation of Great Britain's efforts to secure Czech concessions.

HOW LONDON TIMES SEES IT

From The Times, London

In this country there has never been any doubt about the nature of the sacrifices required from the Czech government. Opinion, from the left to the right of politics, is agreed in principle that a large devotion of authority to the different racial sections is overdue. To reject claims for autonomy merely as incompatible with the security of the state may itself be an impairment of that security. No realistic observer of the internal and external relations of Czechoslovakia—the two are inseparable—can suppose its statesmanship to be content with an unstable equilibrium or can think that a precarious unity poised upon a balance of European force is to be defined as security.

Whatever obstacles Anglo-German relations have encountered from time to time, Herr Hitler has never wavered in the publicly expressed conviction that their true end is friendship and co-operation. In many pronouncements, he has repudiated most forcibly the idea of inevitable war and the charge that German aims include or require it. British policy is complementary to these declarations of the Fuehrer.

AS I SEE IT

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

JOHN BULL'S POKER FACE

I HAD A TALK NOT LONG AGO with the Mr. Ashton-Gwatkin who is diplomatic adviser to Lord Runciman, the man who was given the impossible task of trying to settle the trouble in Czechoslovakia. The task was impossible because the Sudeten Germans had their orders not to settle on any terms. Mr. Ashton-Gwatkin has what the Americans call a good poker face. In plain Canadian he knows how to look dumb.

The ability to look somewhat stupid is one of the Englishman's strong suits. Lord Baldwin had it. But what a mammoth mistake one would make in accepting the look at its face value. History will no doubt class Stanley Baldwin as one of the most subtle and astute of all modern British politicians. His whole record as Conservative leader was a long series of successes against those who were deceived by that bland benign countenance, including the principals in the abdication episode.

In a larger sense this is true of most English leaders. It has its dangers, too. For aggressive go-getters like Hitler and his followers get the idea that the present-day Englishman is an easy mark; too slow to see through their schemes in time and too effete to do anything about it anyway.

That is where they all make their mistake. The Englishman looks dumb because he wants to look dumb. It gives him time to figure out exactly what he is going to do without having to bother answering questions about it in the meantime.

The Germans no doubt joked about Britain sending Lord Runciman and Mr. Ashton-Gwatkin while they already had 1,000,000 men on the march. Yet history has demonstrated time and again that what goes on behind the poker faces of the Ashton-Gwatkins is a lot more important than what happens inside the heads of those generals who believe that what counts most is the ability to get the most soldiers there first.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

IF RIP VAN WINKLE had fallen asleep 20 years ago and wakened up this year he would have had a hard job trying to figure out what was going on—that is if he read the newspapers. He would have wondered what was meant by Czechoslovakia, which did not exist then. He would know nothing about the meaning of Nazis, Fascists or even Communists. The new name "Eire" for Ireland would mean nothing. He would have to be told that Persia was now Iran, that Russia was now the Soviet Union, and that there were new names for old things in many walks of life.

Incidentally, the newspapermen of the whole world ought to get together and organize a movement against the capricious changing of names. Let every country name everything once and for all, and then stick to it. Let everybody be told once and for all time that a Chinese man is insulted if you call him a Chinaman, that Japan calls herself Nippon, that to miscall Manchuria Manchukuo is to get involved in a war involving the whole yellow world, that southern Irishmen get mad if you do not call their country Eire and northern Irishmen get mad if you do. Also, what the ancients called a tyrant must now be called Fuehrer or Duce.

What with new inventions all the time it is hard enough trying to keep up with the mere mechanical march of time. But with wars, revolutions and so forth it's almost impossible. Yet consider the poor radio announcer. He has to pronounce them, not merely spell them.

AUTUMN LEAVES

The autumn leaves are falling, falling down. Tinted orange, purple, red, golden, brown. They splash with magical colors the ground; With lavishness, strewn beauty around. But for a short time they show their splendor.

For, as all earth things, they must surrender To the humble dust from which all life came And to which they all must return again. To know the "why" and "whence" of their glory Life's mystery would be a simple story.

G. S. BROTHERS.

BRITISH GIRL FILM FANS

M. H. Halton London Cable in Toronto Star The average British film fan is a girl, between 17 and 22 years old, and she smokes eight cigarettes a day, though that's neither here nor there. Her favorite star is Shirley Temple, which shows I'm not an average English girl, and she thinks Mae West is poison ivy. She likes Greta Garbo away more than Canadian and U.S. girls do, and she spends 20 cents for her seat in the cinema. She allows a star four bad films and then quits going to see her. She's independent as a hog on ice.

So you see this is one of those sub-human interest stories. A very bright and charming girl who is an executive in one of the big studios on the Goldwyn strand of films northwest of London has been making a study of the average British film fan, and she gave me her conclusions today. "You be Miss England and I'll ask you questions," I suggested, giving her one of my small, mild, cheap cigarettes. "Okay," she said, and we began.

Incidentally, the average British film fan and almost everybody else in England now uses the word okay, and I'm even getting to like it myself. In the last week I have heard Lord Cecil, Winston Churchill and the Marchioness of Reading use the word okay, in all seriousness, not to mention hundreds of others who pronounce it o-kye. And when Winston Churchill uses a word, it's no longer slang. Okay isn't in the concise Oxford dictionary, though. The nearest thing to okay in the dictionary is okay, a brightly colored partially striped Central African ruminant with likeness to the giraffe, the deer and the zebra.

FAITHFUL WORK

To the Editor:—After reading in the paper of the resignation of Miss E. Schofield as Travelers' Secretary, I feel I would like to express a few words of appreciation of that splendid work carried on so faithfully for so many years. In all weathers and at all times her helping word cheered many a lonely traveler on her way. I hope Miss Schofield's future life will be blessed by her kindness to others.

FALLACY OF WHEAT SUBSIDY

From Wall Street Journal Certainly there is much temptation for the United States to indulge in wheat export subsidy. Other countries, too, are faced with large export surpluses and a few are taking the subsidy method of selling to importing nations. Only last week Roumania announced that its subsidy would be raised.

Yet in spite of temptation to secure a satisfying share of the world wheat market for our farmers, the policy is an illusory one. Plans have already been announced to administer this national lottery for that it amounts to—but it is not too late to call them off. For in the end, we believe, more will be lost to all concerned, including the wheat farmer, by this subsidy than by letting the normal course of supply and demand assert itself.

One basic reason why this is true is that wheat is to a considerable extent permanently dependent on export business. Subsidies are the bane of any real freeing of international trade. One of the obstacles holding up better trade arrangements with Germany is fear that the latter country will engage in dumping practices. Yet this wheat subsidy, which is after all a form of dumping, is our answer to a surplus.

WHEN MAN MEETS DOG

To the Editor:—May I offer advice by indicating a very simple method to keep off any dog, even the most vicious? Drop on all fours. There's not a dog in the world that would dare to approach you in that commanding position. It is not likely that he will renew his attack, but, if he does, get down on all fours again, move boldly toward him and watch him running. However, if you wish to inflict the height of terror upon that dog, stand on your hands—if you can.

K. V. BROWN.

BLAME THE PROOF ROOM

From Pleasures of Publishing Of course, printing errors are still with us, and De Vinne in his day gathered a choice collection. A speaker quoted "O come, thou goddess fair and free, in heaven yepest Euphrosyne," but the second line appeared in print as "In heaven she crept and froze her knee." The man who referred to "This battle-scarred veteran," found that in print he had referred to "This battle-scarred veteran." At a public dinner this toast was offered, "May he live to a green old age." But it was printed, "May he live to a grim old age." An orator used Tennyson's line, "Better 50 years of Europe than a cycle of Cathay," but by the time it got in print it read, "Better fifty years of Europe than a circus in Bombay." The poor editor who ended his editorial with the lament "O tempora! O mores!" discovered when he read the next edition that the compositor had thought he meant to write, "O temperance! O Moses!"

Thought is not anchored in any land; and the profit of education rebounds to the equal benefit of the whole world.—President Roosevelt.

Parallel Thoughts

He delivered me from my strong enemy, and from them that hated me: for they were too strong for me.—II Samuel 22:18. Since nothing is settled until it is settled right, no matter how unliked power a man may have, unless he exercises it fairly and justly his actions will return to plague him.—Frank A. Vanderlip.

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "I was referring to us leaving the city." 2. What is the correct pronunciation of "carburetor"? 3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Primitive, tentative, declarative. 4. What does the word "rational" mean? 5. What is a word beginning with ha that means "calm, peaceful, happy"?

Answers 1. Say, "I was referring to our leaving the city." 2. Pronounce kar-bu-ret-er, a as in car, u as in unite, first e as in bet (not rate), principal accent on first syllable. 3. Primitive. 4. Having reason or understanding. "A rational nature admits of nothing but what is serviceable to the rest of mankind." — Antoninus. 5. Halcyon.

Officer Welcomed to Local Chapter

Deputy Grand Regent Mrs. E. Dean of Vancouver was guest of honor at a well-attended meeting on Monday evening of Victoria Chapter, No. 25, Women of the Moose, at the K. of P. Hall, 1415 Broad Street, senior regent Mrs. M. Carter presiding. With Mrs. Dean instructing, the opening ceremony was carried out according to the new ritual which will be distributed shortly. Canadian chapters in future will use the military salute to the flag. Sick matron, Mrs. R. Panting, reported, and a hearty welcome was extended to several members who have been absent for some time, also congratulations to Mrs. C. Drysdale on her 20th wedding anniversary. In honor of the deputy-grand-regent and with officers and guides officiating, Mesdames E. Pocock, M. Bird, A. McAllister and M. Archer were initiated into the chapter. Mrs. K. Herring gave the report of the home-cooking stall; social convener, Miss D. Guelpa, reported on the card party at the hall, and novelty social at the home of Mrs. A. Harrison.

On Saturday, September 24, Maple Leaf Legion, No. 83, will hold a banquet in the hall at 7, to be followed at 9 with a social for members and a court whist drive will be held in the hall at 8.30, supper to be served. A special meeting will be held Monday, September 19, at 7.30, in the Burns Hall, 1402 Douglas Street. Mrs. A. Harrison announced the first sewing bee will be at her home, 2 Bushy Street, Friday evening, September 30, in conjunction with an apron shower. Mrs. Dean congratulated the chapter and convener, Mrs. J. Beadle, on the doll-dressing contest. The theme of her talk was the spreading of happiness and sunshine in helping others, such as a kind and encouraging word when needed or rendering a small service to one in distress. She was heartily thanked for her message and, on behalf of the chapter, senior regent Mrs. M. Carter presented her with a corsage of pink carnations and violets. Supper was served, the table being centred with a silver rose bowl containing red roses.

George Washington, visiting western Pennsylvania in 1753, bought a tract of land which contained an oil spring and listed it in his will.

Weddings

HAMILTON-SCHOLEFIELD

At St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill, yesterday morning at 10.30, Rev. F. A. Ramsey of West Vancouver solemnized the marriage of Daphne, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Scholefield, Cadboro Bay, to Mr. Laurence Hamilton, Rossland, B.C., son of the late Rev. J. B. and Mrs. Hamilton, Vancouver. The marriage service was followed by the celebration of Holy Communion. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess gown of white satin, inset with lace at the yoke and on the long sleeves, with a Medici collar. Her veil of tulle, which had been worn by her mother, was worn with a Juliet cap of Honiton lace, adorned with a strand of orange blossoms. She carried a sheaf of white gladioli.

There were two attendants, Miss Gertrude Scholefield, maid of honor, wearing a floor-length frock of cinnamon brown chiffon over rust taffeta, with hat and accessories to tone, and carrying a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums, and Miss Marguerite Scholefield, bridesmaid, in a frock of yellow organdie over sunset gold, the hem of the dress and the underslip being caught with tiny sprays of bright-hued everlasting flowers. Her hat and accessories were of the same shades and her bouquet of helenium zinnias and yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. Arthur Myers, Vancouver, was best man, and Miss Helen Riley played the wedding music.

Later a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the rooms being arranged with autumn flowers. Mrs. Scholefield received the guests wearing a gown of black silk crepe with touches of pink, a black hat and a corsage bouquet of carnations. A three-tier wedding cake occupied the place of honor on the luncheon table.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton left for a wedding trip to the coast cities, the bride traveling in a brown tailored ensemble of frock and cape, with hat and accessories to match. After their honeymoon, they will make their home in Rossland, B.C., where the groom is on the staff of the Rossland Miner.

Among the wedding gifts was a Cory coffee percolator presented to the bride by the teaching staff of the Rossland Public School, of which she had been a member.

Muffs and Fur On Hats Are Decreed

By ALICE MAXWELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS—Hands and heads are going deeper into the fur quetsion this year than in many a winter past. Arms are digging into muffs up to the elbow. High coiffures, low-down curls, are sheltering under sealskin turbans or snuggling into beaver hoods.

Muffs and furry headgear go together. A black-tailed white ermine muf in Paquin's collection companions an ermine toque to keep an ermine bolero company. Molyneux attaches a beaver hood to a brown wool jacket which steps out with a brown wool frock and a beaver muf.

The longest muffs are designed by Schiaparelli. They are bolster shapes tied around the middle with a colored velvet ribbon. One in silver fox is four skins wide and bow-tied in light blue. Another is skunk, tied in pink, with a skunk trimmed hat to top it off.

The Chechia turban, resembling those the Zouaves wear, is the big tall note in fur hats. Furs in hats are being matched with furred gloves.

DUNCAN I.O.D.E.

The first meeting after the summer holidays of the Dogwoods Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held at the home of Mrs. K. F. Duncan on Monday evening with the regent, Miss P. Petch, in the chair. Miss K. M. Harris, provincial welfare worker, was the guest speaker, and gave a talk on child welfare, which is the principal work of the chapter. The chapter voted $10 to the work. Refreshments were served by Miss D. Bossoms, Miss Helen Hubby and Miss Queenie Kennett.

FIRST UNITED Y.P.S.

The First United Young People's Society will hold its opening meeting Tuesday, September 20, at 6.30, when a supper meeting will be held; after which they will attend the rally at Metropolitan United Church. All young people are cordially invited to attend.

A new asphalt emulsion can be applied without heat and is said to form a perfect bond on either wet or dry surfaces.

V.O.N. Reviews Welfare Society Aids Many Cases

Busy on Annual Rummage Sale in October

The Victorian Order of Nurses met to review the work of the past three months at the home of the president, Miss Fitzgibbon, on Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Cressor reported 2,684 visits made to 489 new patients, including 216 to medicals, 661 to mothers and babies, 173 to communicable disease cases, 36 cancer, 253 to chronic cases and 740 to others. 586 instructive visits were made, 1,873 visits were free and 383 were made to Metropolitan Life Insurance policy holders.

There were 12 well baby clinics held with a total attendance of 247 babies. Mrs. George Hall is convening the prenatal sewing classes, which are to start again September 13.

Miss Cressor spoke of her interesting and instructive visit to the health department and the Visiting Nurse Association of Detroit in July.

Miss Fitzgibbon thanked the members of the junior auxiliary for their splendid donations of sewing this year.

Plans were made for the annual rummage sale which is to be held on October 8, and of which Mrs. H. Wilson is convener.

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. L. Bittancourt have returned to Victoria from the west coast, where they have been spending the summer, and will leave tomorrow for their home on Salt Spring Island.

Miss Margaret Braithwaite of Volmer, Alberta, who has been visiting Mrs. J. W. Fletcher, Saanich Road, is now visiting in Nanaimo with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fletcher.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Mayhew (nee Lovitt), who were married here last Saturday evening, sailed this afternoon from San Francisco on the S. City of Baltimore for New York, via the Panama Canal. They will motor back from the eastern city to Vancouver.

Miss Esther Smith, who is to be married next month to Mr. Alex. Speller, was the guest of honor when Mrs. F. H. Rough entertained at her home, 480 Victoria Avenue, with a miscellaneous shower on Tuesday evening. The many gifts were presented in a large basket decorated in orchid and yellow, and autumn flowers were arranged throughout the room.

Games were enjoyed, Mrs. R. Lamb and Miss Mary Smith winning the prizes. A buffet supper was served by the hostess. The guests included: Mrs. J. Smith, Mrs. R. Elliott, Mrs. R. Lamb, Mrs. Len Acres, Mrs. W. Harbison, Mrs. G. Johnson and the Misses Gertrude Bentley, Nora Rough, Vancouver; Winifred Elliott, Marian Alexander, Rose Bardale, Molly Moore, Mary Smith, Ethel Speller, Edna Hooper and Hazel Irving.

Scientists are tackling another soil problem—what to do for millions of acres of irrigated farm land in the west that are injured by too much soluble salt or "alkali" in the irrigation water.

Welfare Society Aids Many Cases

The monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Family Welfare Association of Greater Victoria was held recently at Welfare House, Mrs. C. D. Schofield, first vice-president, in the chair.

The treasurer's report was presented, showing that $3,150 had been received from the community chest so far this year, and that the association had a balance of $397.24 on hand at the end of August.

Miss McLaughlin, general secretary, presented a statistical report for the three preceding months showing that 101 applications were received and that 259 families were assisted with various problems, including marital difficulties, child behaviour problems, budgeting difficulties, mental problems and many others. Forty-nine of the 259 families received financial assistance in addition to other services.

The work record showed 649 visits had been made and 313 office interviews had taken place. It was reported that the work of clearing away the broom and improving the buildings at the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp would start shortly.

VENTURE CLUB

The meetings of the Venture Club were resumed Wednesday evening, with Miss Edna MacKenzie presiding. Plans were discussed for a telephone bridge to be held in the near future. It was decided to obtain brass plates with inscription to be placed on exercisers donated to the Solarium. The club will invite the Misses Holmes to speak at the next meeting on their recent trip to the Soroptomist convention in Atlantic City.

A social meeting will be held in the form of a party at Cadboro Bay Friday, September 30. A membership drive is being held by the club, and any business girl who is interested in joining the club is asked to phone G 6291.

The Erskine and Gorge Auxiliary, W.M.S., met in the Gorge Presbyterian Church Tuesday. Mrs. H. M. Peasland presided in the absence of Mrs. W. Sanders. The Cleanings were read by Mrs. Stewart. The roll was called, to which members answered with a text. The devotion was followed by the library secretary's report. Erskine mission band is to resume their meeting on Monday next, and the Gorge Mission Band Thursday next. The Home Helpers secretary sent in to the treasurer offerings she had collected. Letters were read from Mrs. Whithing, giving very touching instances of life in the Bhil Field, the other from Rev. Woods in India, who was in Victoria on furlough last summer, and is now stationed at Joliet.

CHAMAINUS—The funeral of Ernest Edward Davenport was held yesterday from the Brethren Hall, Chamainus, to Chamainus Cemetery. Funeral services were conducted by Thomas Reid, Vancouver, and Rev. E. M. Cook, Chamainus. Pallbearers were J. Cowan, Pulling, Abbot, T. Robinson, S. Rafter of Chamainus and Mr. Breckenridge of Nanaimo. Among many floral tributes was a beautiful wreath from former associate workers of the Victoria Lumber & Manufacturing Company, where Mr. Davenport was employed prior to his long illness.

London Society Bride Very Late For Wedding

Arrived 40 Minutes Late, Then Had Forgotten Papers

LONDON—A bride, who arrived 40 minutes late for her wedding, then found she had forgotten essential papers, made the ceremony one hour and a half later than scheduled. Pity the poor bridegroom!

The principals in this comedy of errors were Mrs. Bryce and Capt. Plunkett, who were married at Caxton Hall registry recently.

Mrs. Bryce was 40 minutes late arriving at Caxton Hall—and then she discovered that she had left her marriage papers behind. Capt. Plunkett, wearing a morning suit and a white carnation in his buttonhole, had arrived early with his best man, Mr. David Garforth Bles.

They were followed shortly afterwards by a number of guests including Lord and Lady Dunsany, Lord and Lady Moyne, the Dowager Countess of Jersey, the Earl and Countess of Jersey, and Lord Claud Hamilton.

All the guests assembled in the hall and after some time went down to the marriage room to await the bride.

As she did not arrive they stood in the doorway chatting and Capt. Plunkett was looking rather worried. At last he went off to the telephone. He was told that Mrs. Bryce had just left and she soon arrived in a taxi.

A big crowd had gathered outside the register office and the police had to make way for the car.

The bride wore a silver-grey dress with a silver fox fur and a small green hat with a white eyelet. She carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies.

Bride, bridegroom and guests went to the marriage room—only to discover that Mrs. Bryce had come without her marriage papers. The best man and the bride's sister, Madame Lopes, at once left by car for the hotel where the bride had been staying.

When the papers were eventually brought to the office the wedding took place an hour and a half after the scheduled time. The Superintendent Registrar who was to marry them had had time to go away for lunch and return.

The honeymoon will be spent in India where later Capt. Plunkett will return to his duties in the Indian Army.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

1. Is it permissible to telephone ahead to see if your friends are to be at home if you plan to make an informal call?

2. In place of a call, is it all right to telephone your hostess of a night-before party to tell her how much you enjoyed it?

3. Is it a sign of good breeding to laugh boisterously?

4. Is it thoughtful to greet a person whom you haven't seen for some time by saying, "Do you remember me?"

5. Should a man continually refer to his wife as "she" instead of using her name?

What would you do if—
A caller arrives a few minutes before you had expected to leave to keep an engagement—
(a) Tell him immediately, "I have an appointment very soon, but won't you stay for a few minutes?"
(b) After a short time say, "I'm sorry, but I have to keep an appointment in a few minutes?"
(c) Say nothing even though it means not keeping your appointment?

Young Farmers In Competition

Boys and Girls Win High Praise for Judging Livestock

Future farmers of British Columbia—now boys and girls and members of the rapidly expanding calf clubs—judged the livestock at the Willows Exhibition yesterday and won high praise for their knowledge from R. G. Sutton, district agriculturist, New Westminster.

The competition was arranged by the Dominion Government in a successful effort to still further arouse the interest of young people in the land.

In the same competition the young people exhibited their skill in showing cattle to the best advantage.

The stock judging competition was divided into three classes, and the awards were made as follows:

Eighteen years and under 21—1. Murray Turner, Cadboro Bay; 2. Rosamond Turner, Cadboro Bay; 3. Leslie Coulter, Chilliwack; 4. Oliver Boggs, Bottrel, Alta.; 5. Rosamond Smart, Seven Oaks; 6. Ray Barichello, Murrayville.

Sixteen years and under 18—1. Kathleen Turner, Cadboro Bay; 2. Lorne Morris, Murrayville; 3. Fred Bryant, Chilliwack; 4. Ralph Barichello, Murrayville; 5. Stuart Turner, Victoria.

Under 16 years—1. Jim Turner, Cadboro Bay; 2. Barbara Lyons, Langley; 3. Jack Doney, Saanichton; 4. Willie Turner, Cadboro Bay; 5. Bruce Sibbald, Matsqui; 6. James A. Soles, Carson.

In the showmanship competition the results were as follows: Dairy cattle (members of dairy clubs)—1. Fred Bryant, Chilliwack; 2. Ralph Barichello, Murrayville; 3. George Cutt, Murrayville; 4. Lorne Morris, Chilliwack; 5. Don McLellan, Langley.

Dairy cattle (non-club members)—1. Ray Barichello, Murrayville; 2. John McMonigle, Gelm, Wash.; 3. Gordon Rendle, Victoria; 4. Muriel Rendle, Victoria.

Beef cattle (non-club members)—1. Kathleen Turner; 2. Oliver Turner; 3. James Turner; 4. "Red" Brown, Brandon, Man.; 5. Willie Turner.

Mr. Sutton complimented the boys and girls and said he had no serious criticisms to make of their work. All had done exceedingly well. The attention of exhibitors should always be centered on their cattle, he told the entrants, and for that reason he had eliminated four competitors because they walked straight ahead, letting their calves follow, instead of watching them all the time.

$1,000 Gift for Cathedral Tower

One thousand dollars has been promised by a member of the Christ Church Cathedral congregation towards the completion of the northwest tower of the cathedral, providing a number of similar donations are received. The completion of the tower would cost approximately $17,500.

It is hoped that the tower may be completed by September, 1939, to coincide with the retirement of Bishop Winnington-Ingram of London, after whom the tower has been named.

In a message received from the Bishop of London, he said that it was his hope to be present at the consecration of the tower.

Reserve Decision On Loggers' Appeal

Judgment was reserved by the Court of Appeal at the conclusion of hearing in the appeal of Lucas et al against the Gulf Logging Company Limited and the G. H. Moore Timber Company Limited.

The case takes the form of a test to determine to what extent loggers are protected by the Woodmen's Lien for Wages Act in respect to their ability to lay claims on employers' logs for back wages, irrespective of the logs being the product of labor for which their pay was in arrears.

The case for the respondent companies was completed yesterday afternoon by Knox Walkem, K.C. Mark Cosgrove represented the appellant workmen.

25 Years Ago

SEPTEMBER 16, 1913 (From the Times Files)

R. H. Sperling, general manager of the B.C. Electric Railway Co., who arrived in town last evening, announced today that the fare on local lines would be, in future, a straight five cents. The chief reform is the abolishing of the green commutation tickets which formerly sold for six for 25 cents and the workman's white tickets, which were good between 7 and 9 in the morning, and 5 and 7 in the evening, which sold for eight for 25 cents.

Engineer Rust announced today that concrete pouring had begun yesterday at the Humpback dam and today at the Sooke Lake dam. Within two weeks the engineer expects that the height of the dam will be sufficient to prevent any danger from a sudden rain.

Completing one of the fastest trips to be made by the smaller white liners for some time, the Empress of Japan berthed at the outer docks this afternoon from Hongkong and Yokohama, crossing the Pacific in 11½ days, during the greater part of which time she encountered fairly good weather.

G-E Searches Into Unknown

New Radio Models Result of Over 30 Years' Brilliant Work

For more than 30 years the General Electric Company has been identified with radio. In its famous electrical laboratories, the "House of Magic," continuous and exhaustive research into the mysteries of radio and electricity has been carried on by a corps of trained engineers. Without the pioneering achievements of this great research organization, radio as we know it today, would not exist.

In 1906 Dr. Alexanderson built a high frequency generator which made radio possible. In 1914 Dr. Langmuir, a Nobel prize winner, built a high vacuum tube that made radio possible to the public. In 1926, after years of patient work, Alexanderson projected a television picture six feet square. In 1928 the Rice-Kellogg team produced the dynamic speaker, out of which was born the famous magic tone of the modern General Electric radio.

"Add to this imposing list the names of General Electric's immortal Edison and Steinmetz and you can appreciate the value of this vast background of successful research when you are thrilled by the amazing tonal qualities of the new 1939 sets being introduced today," said an official of the company. "And so on through the years expensive research and precise manufacturing methods have increased the useful life of both radio sets and radio tubes and at the same time greatly reduced prices."

NEW IN EVERY WAY Embodiment of all sound fundamental principles of the past as well as the most modern advancements and refinements known to engineers, the new 1939 line of G-E Magic Tone radios includes six console and five table models. In addition, there is a convenient armchair model of pleasing design.

SIMPLIFIED TOUCH TUNING—The operation of the new feature, Instantaneous Tuning, is so simple, so accurate, that even a child can correctly tune your favorite station by simply pressing a button. The new device is silent in operation and eliminates all possibility of error. This feature is one of the highlights of the 1939 radio season and promises to be popular with young and old alike. Instantaneous Tuning is available on even the lowest-priced G-E sets this year.

An inspection of these new sets reveals the many fine features which contribute to perfect balance, fidelity of tone and convenience of operation. Encased in beautifully designed cabinets, which combine conservative dignity with modern styling, the new models feature improved keyboard touch tuning, which is designed to assure easier, faster and more accurate tuning, while the multi-vision louvre dial is readily discernible from either a standing or a sitting position. Each scale is calibrated in a straight line, and a separate scale is used for each band. The louvres are illuminated by indirect lighting.

The tuning eye, it is pointed out, enables one to "see" as well as hear when a station is properly tuned. In this way guesswork is eliminated and the most pleasing tone and volume may be obtained.

ANOTHER FEATURE Another feature, appropriately described as the sentry box, selects and brings in the one station "to pass." The importance of spread-band tuning, engineers declare, will be readily appreciated by all short-wave fans. This feature means that

Many Attend Horse Show

Crowds Continue to Witness Thrilling Exhibitions of Riding at Willows

Again last night the Horse show Building at the Willows Exhibition Grounds was crowded almost to capacity, and another excellent program was presented.

Cowboys and cowgirls gave thrilling performances. Prize cattle were paraded around the ring before the horse show started.

The final event in the six-horse teams will take place at the show this evening. These teams have featured the horse shows all week and the exhibitions they and their drivers have given have been first class.

Mrs. D. B. Carley on Canary won the first event of the show, with Miss Rae on Reval in second place and Major J. F. Thorne on Victor in third place. Prizes for this event were presented by F. Norris and Sons and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Yarrow.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Todd sponsored the class for hunters, the cash prizes being $20, $15 and $10. The event was for the best pair of hunters ridden abreast over two jumps.

Taking first place were R. G. Shanks and Miss Terese Todd on Chenango and Chiquita; 2. Mrs. D. B. Carley and Gordon Harris on Hurrah Kate and Omar; 3. Miss B. Payne and Miss Josephine Rithet on Scotland Prince and Nevada.

Miss Todd on Chenango won the performing jump over post and rail. Mrs. Carley on Hurrah Kate was second and R. G. Shanks on Chiquita was third. Prizes were $20, $15 and $10. The rodeo and horse show will be repeated this evening and again tomorrow evening.

Protection For Children Sought

LADYSMITH—In response to inquiries the city council was assured Wednesday evening that public tenders for reconstruction of the Dominion Government wharf will be called for about the middle of September.

Provincial Police of the city asked the council to have 12 school "slow" signs erected at the necessary points for the three schools. It was stated that increasing traffic and the increasing number of children playing on the streets at recess hours made a stricter form of traffic control imperative. The board of works will undertake the matter immediately.

John Carson of Nanaimo Passes

NANAIMO—John Carson, resident of Nanaimo for 27 years, died yesterday at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Robert Main, Victoria Road, at the age of 68 years. He was born in Ayrshire, Scotland; was a member of the Owls' Lodge, and prominently identified with the Burns circles here.

He worked for 15 years in the old Jingle Pot Mine near Northfield, and formerly lived in Alberta.

He is survived by his wife; four daughters, among whom are Mrs. J. Cameron, Nanaimo; Mrs. James Craig, Enfield, Washington, and Mrs. W. Lewis Carvon.

EDMONTON (CP)—Holding of an Alberta Conservative convention between October 15 and 31 has been proposed, and is now being considered by prominent party supporters in all parts of the province, it has been learned. The convention would be the first provincial one since early in 1930.

Chamberlain Flies Home

German Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop Sees British Premier Off at Munich After His Talk With Hitler at Berchtesgaden

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Staff
BERCHTESGADEN, Germany (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain left for home today without having obtained a guarantee of peace which he came here to seek from Chancellor Hitler.

The way was paved, however, for a further conversation between the two, possibly next Tuesday at Godesberg, near Cologne, about Germany's and Czechoslovakia's dispute over minority rights.

To the extent that the parley was scheduled to continue, the situation was regarded as hopeful, if not particularly bright. No great enthusiasm was expressed or in evidence in circles close to Hitler and Chamberlain.

Hitler failed to appear to speed the parting guest from his hotel. He remained in his mountain retreat eight miles from this alpine town.

(Prime Minister's Chamberlain's plane landed at Heston airport, London, at 5:29 p.m., British time.)

Mr. Chamberlain appeared well despite the air sickness he experienced yesterday on the flight from London—the first in his 69 years—and there was a cheerful smile on his face, if not in his heart.

SUN BREAKS THROUGH

It had rained all night, but as the Prime Minister was about to enter his automobile for the drive to Munich, where his plane was waiting to take him to London for conferences with the cabinet, the sun was struggling to break through the clouds.

Joachim von Ribbentrop, German Foreign Minister, turned to Mr. Chamberlain and said, "The sun is going to shine on your trip."

The British statesman smiled and replied, "I hope the sun will shine."

Some wondered whether Von Ribbentrop and Chamberlain were staging a little byplay of optimism for the benefit of the bystanders, but a prominent German official was quick to remark to a newspaperman, "Don't take that symbolically."

Mr. Ribbentrop accompanied Mr. Chamberlain as far as Munich, and was scheduled to return here for a conference with Hitler, presumably on the results of the Foreign Minister's chat with the Prime Minister.

NO DETAILS GIVEN

Both German and British officials refused bluntly to disclose the nature of yesterday's conversation between Hitler and Chamberlain. The impression pre-

STRESS HEALTH EDUCATION WORK

Nurses Find Big Field in Teaching Families Methods Of Avoiding Ills

"The Victorian Order of Nurses, a Dominion-wide organization with branches in 40 centres and employing approximately 400 public health trained nurses, is essentially interested in any project that has as its objective the promotion of health. The purpose of an Empire Health Week is to stimulate interest in good health," Miss A. Creaser, superintendent of the Victoria Branch, V.O.N., declared in an endorsement of the Health Week idea.

Forty years ago the Victorian Order of Nurses, through the efforts of Lady Aberdeen, assisted by the National Council of Women, was established in Canada. This home-nursing service was to be given to people regardless of color, race or creed, and at a cost which would be within the reach of all classes.

In 1910 a branch of the order was established in Victoria and today employs six nurses with post-graduate training. The fundamental purpose of the V.O.N. is still bedside nursing and health teaching.

In line with modern medical thought, the order lists health instruction as one of the major activities. Last year 42 per cent of the visits made by the V.O.N. in Victoria were educational. These consisted of visits to the new baby and her mother, to help establish a good routine, visits to the preschool, with the purpose of impressing the value of vaccination and toxoiding to prevent disease, and visits to cases of communicable disease to teach isolation and quarantine regulations.

Bread Frozen

CHICAGO (AP)—Delegates to the American Bakers' Association convention here next month will eat bread that's a month old.

According to Dr. William Cathcart of the American Institute of Baking, the bread is being baked now and frozen. When the convention opens, it will be thawed out, served and eaten.

"And we'll prove," Dr. Cathcart said, "the bread will taste as if it had been baked fresh that day."

ST. JOHN'S A.Y.P.A.

Rev. G. R. V. Bolster will install the 1938-39 executive of St. John's A.Y.P.A. on Sunday at the evening service; M. Donald Patterson of Wyldtiff College, a former member of the branch, assisting.

The opening party will be held on Monday evening at 8 in the Sunday school auditorium. An interesting program has been arranged by the executive.

LANGFORD

At a general meeting of the Prince Edward branch No. 91, Canadian Legion, on Monday arrangements were made for a series of card parties. The first will be held on September 28. Comrade Horace Simpson was elected chairman of the committee.

The Langford-Luxton Welfare Group will commence quilting work for the winter season this week. Mrs. H. Simpson, Shrood Peatt Lane, is the convener.

Everton to Meet Ports

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

VISITED THE Willows race track this week to watch the ponies gallop on the popular five-eighths of a mile oval. My appearance did not swell the betting handle except for the "buck" the office racing expert talked me into wagering with him on a one-two bet. Needless to say, I lost. Just another dollar "expended" right out of my pocket. They'll do it every time.

Must give presiding steward Bill McKean a pat on the back for the stern but just manner in which he is handling the jockeys. McKean has always been known as a racing steward who would stand for no fooling around and he is certainly living up to his reputation. McKean disciplined Jockey Johnny Kelly for rough riding with a two-day suspension, made it three days when the rider talked back and then set down the boy for the remainder of the season for further insubordination. Later in the meeting, Steve Holecio felt the iron hand of the steward, drawing a suspension for the remainder of the riding rules.

Action of this nature gives the public confidence and makes them feel the presiding steward is looking after the interests of the people who make horse racing possible.

Despite strong protest from some quarters when the totalisator was removed, the betting public appears quite satisfied with the pari-mutuel system in operation this season. Elimination of the "tote" has speeded up the betting and the races are being run off in much faster order. In former years there was always a great crowding in front of the "tote" and, as a result, the betting wickets were jammed. Many people got shut out at the wickets through the crush. Now the wickets are clear practically all the time with the fans having no trouble getting down their bets.

With an expert calculator from Vancouver in attendance the odds board is kept up to date with four or five changes for each race. About the only objection heard by the writer was that the punters have no idea what a horse will pay for place and show.

Wednesday's Citizens' Day crowd at the track must have just about set a record. It is a long time since I have seen so many crowded into the grandstand. Sam Randall, association president, stated the betting handle was well up over the same day last season.

It would be a good idea if those in charge of the track would do a little work on the loose loam. I noticed that several horses found difficulty getting around the turns. The soft surface is going out from under their feet. A few days' working over with a harrow and roller would do the trick.

Jack Short, a former Victoria boy, is back again handling the public address system, and is doing his usual good job. He calls the races for the benefit of the punters and gives them other interesting bits of information during the day's program.

Handling the form chart is Massey White, who has been coming over for the local meetings for several years now. Paid my annual visit to the little box on top of the grandstand and found the boys really busy.

English League Soccer Leaders Expected to Win Sixth Straight Tomorrow

LONDON—Everton's great bid for championship honors and Arsenal's slump are chief topics in English soccer circles. Everton is expected to achieve its sixth straight victory tomorrow against Portsmouth, but the Gunners, wallowing in 18th place, face a tough battle at Wolverhampton.

Setting a dizzy pace, Everton has a one-point margin over Derby County at the top of the major division, but the latter has played an extra game. The Lancastrians are now the only team in the four divisions of the league with maximum points.

It must be years since a crowd at Highbury jeered the famous Gunners, league champions last season. They could do nothing right against Derby County Wednesday and in losing 2 to 1 were subjected to a lot of barracking by a crowd of Londoners. Of the five matches played to date Arsenal has won one and drawn one, the remainder being lost.

Injuries are causing most managers considerable worry and Everton is not likely to go into tomorrow's game at full strength. Grimsby Town is scouring the country for a centre-forward to take the place of Pat Glover, its crack Welsh international, who may not play for weeks.

But Huddersfield Town has the real hard luck story of the week. The Yorkshiremen signed John Mahon, West Bromwich's Irish international right-winger in time to play him against Sunderland Wednesday. After playing only 10 minutes he was carried from the field with a cracked shinbone.

NEW PLAYER

Carlton Athletic is introducing J. Mallett, a young forward from Queen's Park Rangers, against Leicester City, while Chelsea, still weakened through injuries, is expected to defeat Birmingham at Stamford Bridge. The Pensioners are faced with the problem of filling the centre-half berth, both their regular pivots being on the injured list.

Sheffield Wednesday and Fulham share top place in the second division with nine points each. Both teams are likely to be successful at the weekend, the Wednesday playing Tranmere Rovers and its rival opposing Chesterfield.

In the third division's southern section, Swindon Town, Aldershot and Newport County lead with eight points each. Aldershot has the best chance tomorrow with a home game against Clapton Orient. Barnsley may break a first-place deadlock in the northern circuit by overcoming the low-placed Barrow team.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE

GLASGOW—Surprise teams of the current campaign, Clyde and Queen of the South continue to hold the spotlight in Scottish football. Clyde climbed to a one-point margin at the top of the heap with the Dumfries squad as chief challenger.

The leaders are at home to Celtic in the week-end's feature attraction. While Clyde was trouncing Ayr United 4 to 2 Wednesday, the Celts disappointed a home crowd by losing to Hamilton Academicals 2 to 1. The green-shirts have obtained maximum points in only four of seven matches played, and on this showing may fail at Shawfield Park.

CRICKET ELEVEN'S BATTLE TOMORROW

Five C's, undefeated in league play this season, will oppose the second-place University School Incogs tomorrow afternoon in the final Victoria and District Cricket League fixture of the season on the University School pitch.

This game should be keenly fought as there is not much to choose between the two elevens. The churchmen handed the Incogs their only defeat earlier this year in league competition, and the latter will be but at full strength to try and square up matters. A win for Five C's will give them the league championship.

Play starts at 2:15. Five C's line-up follows: E. Gunton, G. Payne, J. Payne, Heworth, Griffin, McIlvenny, Yoxall, Lea, Petch, Adie and Passmore.

Leggett and Smith Champs

Capture Honors in Annual Golf Tournament of Greenkeepers

Honors in the annual tournament of the Victoria Golf Greenkeepers' Association held yesterday at the Macaulay Point Club were divided between H. W. Leggett, of the host club, and Charlie Smith, Victoria. The former had a score of 94-20-74 to capture the J. A. Sayward Cup and the handicapped championship, while Smith had a smart 75 for the best round of the day, to lift the Charles F. Todd medal.

Charlie Carnegie Jr., and a 77 for the second best card of the tournament. Charlie Smith had the best nine-hole card, while T. Thorpe lifted the hidden-hole award.

Scoring 18½ points the team from the Colwood Club won the interclub shield. Putting and approaching competitions were held for prizes donated by Freddy Burns, Macaulay pro. The tournament was brought to a fitting close with a banquet and presentation of prizes in the clubhouse in the evening followed by a concert.

Scores follow:
H. W. Leggett 94-20-74
A. C. Smith 75
T. Thorpe 93-18-75

Polo Teams Play Sunday

Victoria Squads Engage in Match With Duncan Aggregations

Polo enthusiasts will have the opportunity of watching four teams in action on Sunday afternoon at the Victoria Polo and Riding Club grounds on Foul Bay Road.

Starting at 2:30 two teams from the local club and one from Maple Bay and another from So-menos will engage in a match. The Maple Bay four will take the field against the Victoria all-stars to be followed by the So-menos against the Reds. By playing two matches in one, the public will be given continuous polo, with each team in action 28 minutes.

On Monday the locals and up-land players will engage in another match, starting at 2:30.

The teams follow:
Maple Bay—Matheson, Wheeler, Mackenzie and Carberry.
So-menos Outlaws—Hewlett, Bais, G. Bais and Thorne.
All stars—Findlay, Carley, Sturdy and Edgell.
Reds—Boorman, Van der Vliet, Hazlewood and Wilson.
Referee, H. Rivers Rebbitt.
Timekeeper, G. T. Maurice.

Four Teams Enter Intermediate Lop

Following a meeting of the Intermediate Football League last night it was reported that Young Liberals, Camerons, Cooper and Metropolitans had entered for this season's play.

Entries will close September 22, when the league will hold another meeting in the Colonist boardroom. Clubs interested are asked to have delegates present.

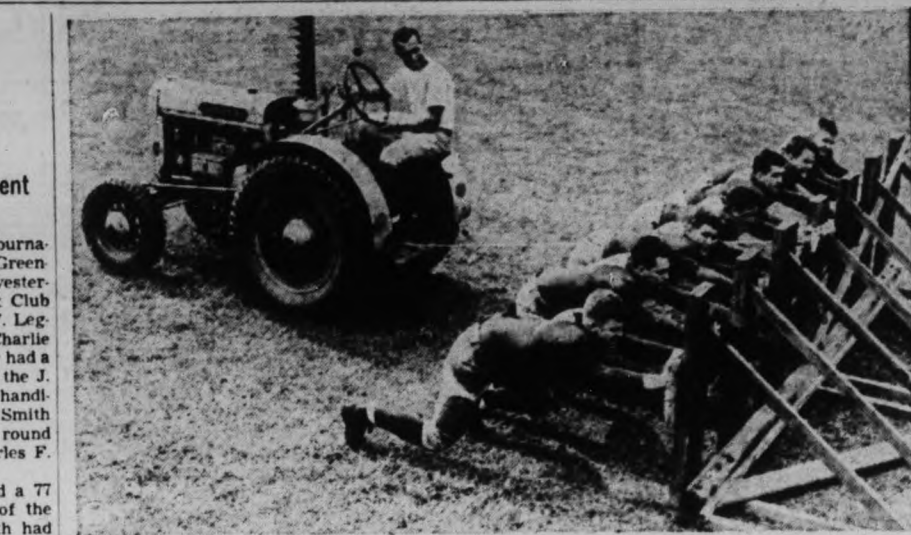

A new trophy, to be known as the J. E. Day Injured Players' Cup, has been presented for annual competition.

RUGBY MEETING

The opening meeting of the executive of the Victoria Rugby Union will be held Monday at 5 in the Colonist board room. All members and team representatives are asked to be present to discuss arrangements for the coming season.

Camerons in Another Win

Defeat Saanich 8 to 3 in Softball Cup Game; Play Burns Tonight

Cameron Lumber softballers, holders of the city and island championships, advanced to meet Burns Shamrocks in the final of the Poodle Dog Cafe Cup knockout series last night by defeating Saanich Construction, 8 to 3. The final will be played tonight at Central Park at 6.

Tommy Johnston, who turned in a fine pitching performance Wednesday night, was yanked from the mound in the third inning last night after Saanich had loaded the sacks. Rosy McLellan was sent in to stem the attack and after two runners had scored held the suburbanites in check for the remainder of the game.

Score by innings:
Cameron Lumber --- 31004-8
Saanich Cons. --- 00210-3
Batteries—Johnston, McLellan and Harris; Campbell and Bailey.

Lacrosse Under Lights Tonight

Lots of action should result tonight when James Bay and Bluebird box lacrosse aggregations hook up under the floodlights at the Athletic Park in the opening game of their best-of-three intermediate city championship series. The game will start at 8.

Both teams have been put through regular training sessions since the close of league play and the players are raring to go.

Teams follow:
Bluebirds—Smith, N. Coates, Carter, Holyoak, Williams, Bousfield, Pickford, Gillis, Thomas, Bischlager, D. Coates, O'Connell, McCormack and Ball.

James Bay—A. McKim, W. Allen, R. Clarke, A. Cullin, E. Vridham, R. Mason, E. McKim, F. Sargent, D. Turner, J. Sargent, R. Williams, C. Thomas and S. Clarke.

Australians Star

Players from "Down Under" Make Remarkable Showing in U.S. Tennis Championships; Bromwich in Semifinals

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. — Australia, with a population of only about 7,000,000, is without doubt the hottest tennis country in the world today, and gives every indication of getting hotter.

Of six players left in the men's division of the United States national championship here, two are from the sparsely-settled dominion — Jack Bromwich and Harry Hopman. Another of its representatives, Nancy Wynne, has reached the semifinals of the women's department and looked like a certain finalist if not the champion.

Pirates Cut Loose

Boom Out Five Home Runs to Beat Giants 7 to 2 and Go Three Games Up in National League Baseball Race

The second division actors moved front and centre in the National League baseball pennant comedy today.

In a pair of double-headers at Philadelphia and Boston, those also-rans, who are just along for the ride now, have a big say in just what the final act of the race will look like. And, if past performances of this season are any indication, they'll probably kick everything lopsided.

Pittsburgh's Pirates, boasting a three-game margin as the result of a 7 to 2 walloping they pinned on the New York Giants with five homers yesterday, move into position for a twin bill with the buzzing Bees. Cincinnati Reds, four games back in third place, tangle with the Phillies.

The developments of these bargain bills will be of particular interest to the single game in the Polo Grounds in New York, in involving the second-place Chicago Cubs, who are only three games back and moving fast, and the Giants, who fell to fourth place yesterday.

TROUBLE LOOMS

All signs point to trouble for the Pirates in Boston. The Bucs have won only three of eight starts in the Hub this year, and, with a pitching staff handicapped by the loss of Bob Klinger, they are going to find it anything but easy knocking off Casey Stengel's crew in their own lot. The Reds have taken five of eight games in Philadelphia, but Jimmy Wilson's pitching staff is vastly improved since the Phils moved from Baker Bowl bandbox to Shibe Park.

All four of the first division outfits were on hand for the Pirates-Giants party yesterday. The Cubs and Reds, with an off-day in their schedule, took a busman's holiday to sit in on the proceedings, and what they saw made it appear the Pirates are still the outfit favored to finish on top.

Paul Waner walloped two homers, and "Li'l Poison" Lloyd

Addison Beats Field Twice

Greencroft Stable Saddles Pair of Winners at Willows

Trainer George Addison of the Greencroft Stable got the better of Trainer R. F. Field in two private little feuds at Willows race track yesterday.

Addison saddled Nannafran and Fields saddled Love Us for the fourth event at a mile. Love Us was in front until mid-stretch when Nannafran, with Emil Sporri booting hard, drew alongside and went to the front passing the wire.

In the seventh, Field sent Spartan Beauty to the post and Apprentice Albert Holliday gave the mare all the best of it by beating the gate. She was in front until the last few jumps when Addison's Sim Tee got up to win by a whisker. Again Sporri did the trick for the Greencroft outfit and Addison was mighty happy.

Field took one purse during the day, however, his Madam Lucy scoring a repeat win in the fifth but he lost Love Us, which was claimed for $600 by Sumas Stable.

Miss D. Wilson's Valerie Jean took the major share of the purse in the Saanich Handicap at six furlongs. It was one of the most thrilling finishes of the meeting. H. M. Fullerton's Flying Bud elected to set the pace with Valerie Jean in close attendance. As they moved into the stretch Johnny Craigmyre gave Flying Bud everything he had but could not resist the daughter of Jean Valjean. Meanwhile, Margery Daw had moved alongside and the three raced head and head for the wire. Margery Draw nipped the place pot.

Dot Mike Stable's Someridge and Apprentice R. Grindley broke their maidens together in the third race at five and one-half furlongs. Grindley booted the gelding into the lead at the start and was well in the clear at the finish.

Longest price of the day was returned by Charlie, which was overlooked in the second and returned $31 straight. She combined with Someridge for a $69.45 double price.

Russell and Sporri each gained two victories to split riding honors.

Title Final At Uplands

Miss Mackenzie-Grieve and Mrs. Horsford Seek Club Honors

Today over the links of the Uplands Golf Club, Miss Mary Mackenzie-Grieve defended her women's championship in an 18-hole final against Mrs. S. H. Horsford. Yesterday saw the finalists survive two keen duels. Miss Mackenzie-Grieve came from behind to defeat Mrs. C. Brown 1 up, and Mrs. Horsford eliminated Mrs. James McIlraith, medalist, by a like margin.

After being 3 down at the turn Miss Mackenzie-Grieve rallied to take the 10th and 11th holes and finally square the match at the 17th. A par five on the last hole brought the champion victory.

In her match with Mrs. McIlraith, Mrs. Horsford moved into the lead at the 10th. The next three holes were halved with Mrs. Horsford going 2 up with a par 5 at the dog-leg 14th. The next two holes were halved and Mrs. McIlraith stayed in the fight by winning the 17th with a par four.

The 18th was halved in sixes, leaving Mrs. Horsford 1 up. Finals in all flights were being played this afternoon.

BOWLING MEET

A general meeting of all women five pin bowlers will be held at the Olympic Recreation on Tuesday at 8 for the purpose of electing officers for the year. All last year's players and any others interested are invited to attend.

National Champs to Be Hosts

Third, Fourth and Fifth Games Scheduled For Yankee Stadium

NEW YORK (AP)—Unless the National League race ends in a tie, the 1938 world baseball series will open Wednesday, October 5, with the first two games scheduled in the home of the National League champions. The third, fourth and fifth games will be played in the Yankee Stadium, with the sixth and seventh, if necessary, returning to the National League city.

This was decided today at a conference between Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Landis and representatives of the five clubs involved. New York Yankees from the American League, and Pittsburgh Pirates, New York Giants, Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs from the National League, also attended.

For Frick, president of the National League, and Will C. Harridge, head of the American League, also attended.

All games will begin at 10:30 a.m. P.S.T., unless there is a Sunday game in New York, in which event hostilities will start at 11 a.m. P.S.T.

If the National League race should end in a tie, which is unlikely, the blue ribbon event of baseball will be started the third day after the tie is decided. It would be up to Frick to decide when the tie should be played off. He indicated today the playoff would be held on Tuesday following the close of the season, October 2.

SOCCER TEAMS ARE SELECTED

English and Irish Elevens Battle in Inter-League Match Sept. 21

BELFAST — Drastic changes are being made in the Irish League's team to oppose an English League eleven here, September 21. Only four members of the squad vanquished 6 to 1 by the Scottish League at Glasgow, are being retained.

The present campaign's inter-league series, led by Tom Lawton, youthful Everton centre-forward, the English team is a strong one, including many well-known internationals.

Since the two countries first met in inter-league contests, England has won 33 of 39 contests. The Irishmen have been successful on only two occasions, four games being drawn.

The teams follow:
Irish League — Goal, McCurry (Cliftonville); backs, Adams (Distillery), Fulton (Belfast Celtic); halfbacks, McIvor (Newry Town), Carlyle (Derry City), Walker (Belfast Celtic); forwards, Todd (Glenfort), McAliden (Belfast Celtic), Shearer (Derry City), Duffy (Sherry City), McCormick (Linfield).

English League — Goal, Woodley (Chelsea); backs, Sproston (Tottenham Hotspurs), Haggood (Arsenal); halfbacks, Willingham (Huddersfield Town), Cullis (Wolverhampton Athletic); forwards, Matthews (Stoke City), Robinson (Sheffield Wednesday), Lawton (Everton), Goulden, Morton (West Ham).

Young Corbett Meets Apostoli

New York to Recognize Winner as Middle-weight Boxing Champ

NE WYORK—Promoter Mike Jacobs announced last night he has signed Young Corbett, III, of Fresno, Cal., and Fred Apostoli of San Francisco for a 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden for "the middleweight championship of the world" November 18. Mike hopes the bout will clear up the muddled middleweight situation.

The New York State Athletic Commission refused to recognize Al Hostak when the latter beat champion Freddie Steele July 26 and declared the title vacant. It added it would recognize as champion the winner of a bout between Apostoli, who beat Steele in an over-the-weight match, and a leading contender. Jacobs will promote the fight on the assumption Corbett is the leading contender.

Hostak is recognized as champion by the National Boxing Association while the California Boxing Commission calls Corbett king. Apostoli holds no title but he is the best known.

SECOND ROUND OF CUP GOLF

Uplands Cup Competition Concludes Sunday; Announce Draw

On Sunday at the Uplands Golf Club the final round of 18 holes in the Uplands Cup competition will be played. Play is medal with full handicap and Sunday's score will be added to that of the previous Sunday, making a 36-hole match, with the low net winning.

NANAIMO—John Barsby, chairman of Nanaimo School Board, and Trustee Harold Thorneycroft will represent Nanaimo at the British Columbia convention of school trustees at Kamloops, September 26 and 27. The school board has accepted the resignations of Miss Gowan, public health nurse, and James Dudley, janitor of the North Ward School.

IRISH CHAMP ENTERS

CHICAGO—The name of Miss Clarrie Tiernan of Balrath, Ireland, Irish women's champion in 1937, was added today to the list of entrants in the United States women's golf tournament, which opens Monday over the Westmoreland Country Club course.

HORSESHOE PITCHING

W. J. Rennie won the Vancouver Island singles horseshoe pitching championship this week when he defeated J. Keating on the Greater Victoria Association grounds, corner of Pandora and Blanshard. He took possession of the Colonist Cup.

In the island championship doubles final for the Times Cup, Rennie and Keating defeated L. W. Cockrill and H. Pritham. Keating won the section A handicap playoff for the Coronation Cup by beating Rennie, while the association scrip awarded to the winner of section B handicap was won by A. Rutherford. The James Adam Cup went to L. W. Cockrill, who rang up 18 ringers out of 50 attempts. Bill Rennie got 17. H. Kirkham and J. Keating tossed 21 ringers to tie for the special prize.

College Will Open Monday

Application of the four-year high school term this year will leave the freshman enrollment at Victoria College considerably below that of last year, but an increase in the number of second year students continuing their studies at Craigdarroch will bring the aggregate within 10 or 15 of last year's total, it was learned from officials at the college today.

With three days left for official registration as well as an extension of time for those who are returning to the city late from vacation, the sophomore list is one or two above the total registered for the complete term last year. At present 56 have stated their intention of taking the course, and the number is expected to be swelled to 65 during the next week.

Authorities at the school gave a conservative estimate of 210 or 215 for the total student body against 220 last year.

The term will open on Monday morning and will continue until December 17, when Christmas vacation will start. The students will resume their studies on January 3 and start their final examinations on April 15 next.

No staff changes have been made this year. Miss Ruth Humphrey returns from leave of absence and Miss Rena Grant, who replaced her, has left to continue study for her doctor's degree at the University of California.

There are no material alterations in the curriculum, and extra mural activities are expected to be much the same as last year. On Monday morning John Meredith, president of the Students' Council, will address the students, outlining their activities in the student field, while Principal P. H. Elliott and various faculty members will explain what is expected of them in academic activity.

Window Prize Winners Named

The Vancouver Drug Company's store at the corner of Yates and Douglas Street, was judged first in the Greater Victoria Health Week window display contest for drug stores, it was announced by the committee in charge today.

Second honors in that section went to Clark's Pharmacy at 1064 Pandora Avenue.

The Hudson's Bay Company was first and David Spencer Limited second in the competition open to stores other than drug stores.

VICTORIA BOY BEST JUDGE OF POULTRY

Donald Burnfield, 14-year-old Victoria boy, who lives in Shelbourne Street, this morning proved himself one of the most expert of the younger poultry breeders of British Columbia.

At the annual junior poultry judging competition in connection with the Autumn Exhibition at the Willows, was given 290 points out of a possible 300, and would have been given full marks if he had not made a slight technical error.

Young Burnfield, when only 12 years of age, distinguished himself in this class at a former local exhibition.

Each competitor judged nine chickens, of three breeds. Ten minutes were given for judging and 10 minutes to write down the reasons of choice.

J. R. Terry, poultry commissioner, who was the judge, commented on the knowledge displayed by the children and complimented them.

Second was Gordon Atkinson of Braeford, who was given 280 points; third was Ray Barichello of Murrayville, Fraser Valley, who was awarded 268 points; fourth, Miss Patricia Hamblett of Royal Oak, with 266 points, and 5 Miss Shirley Banner of Jordan River, with 244 points.

TOWN TOPICS

Jim White, 2226 Shakespeare Street, reported to Oak Bay Police Thursday evening his bicycle had been stolen from the Willows fair grounds.

Theft of 50 feet of lead line, 26 pounds of lead and 50 feet of anchor rope from his launch while it was tied up at a wharf in the Inner Harbor was reported to police Thursday afternoon by Frank Hayward, Old West Saanich Road.

Viv Shoemaker, boys' work secretary of the Y.M.C.A., announced today that the junior basketball squad of the association will hold their first work-out on Tuesday evening at 6:30 under the coaching of Bill Naysmith.

In the dahlia show at the Willows Exhibition this week G. Smethurst, 2322 Vancouver Street, was successful in one of the classes and J. H. Smethurst, 1987 Fort Street, won in the novice class.

New tenders were called by the public works department today for construction of a new supervisor's residence at the Wilkinson Road Mental Home. Previous tenders called on the work were found to be higher than the appropriation allotted.

The Emmanuel Baptist Sunday school will hold its annual sports day tomorrow afternoon and scholars are asked to be at the church promptly at 3. Supper will be served at 5.30 and at 7 moving pictures will be shown. Parents and friends are invited to see the pictures.

Dr. Murray Anderson, medical officer for city schools, addressed students of the Victoria High School yesterday in connection with Health Week. He regretted that the great number of students made it impossible to give individual attention but said he would be in his office at Central Junior High School between 3 and 4 in the afternoon and would welcome any student who had a problem to consult him about.

The action of George T. Porter, representing trustees of the Victoria Cold Storage and Terminal Warehouse Company Limited against the city for $35,000 allegedly owing the company on a claim for guaranteed earnings, has been abandoned, H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, reported late Thursday.

A prior claim for $175,000 against the city for earnings of previous years, was dismissed last year, following court procedure.

After two and a half hours of argument in City Police Court this morning William Blackett of North Vancouver and Victoria was found guilty by Magistrate Hall of driving in a manner dangerous to the public and fined $25. The charge arose out of an accident involving Blackett's car and one driven by Alfred Bowers, New Westminster, earlier this week at the corner of Pandora Avenue and Cook Street. Frederick Richardson was fined $20, or three days in jail, when he changed his plea to guilty on a similar charge. Police testified his car ran over a sidewalk and struck a parking lot sign on View Street.

OBITUARIES

Licensing Rule To Be Enforced

The Coal and Petroleum Control Board today announced steps to hurry the licensing of persons and firms dealing in the products under its control.

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman, said he was sending out a warning to the trade that the board will now enforce its regulation making it an offence for any dealer to buy or sell petroleum or coal products from one who has not got a license and should have one.

During the preliminary licensing period this has not been rigidly enforced, he explained, but will now be invoked to bring in those who have neglected to take out their licenses.

Street Cars Discussed

W. G. Murrin, President of B.C.E.R., Tells Men He Is Willing to Spend Some Money on System and Carry On For a Time

The B.C. Electric Railway Company is prepared to spend an unnamed sum of money in rehabilitating its street car railway system in Victoria, according to a statement made this morning by representatives of Division 109 of the Street Railway Men's Union. Last week E. F. Fox, president of the division; W. Turner, recording secretary, and S. West, executive member, went to Vancouver and interviewed W. G. Murrin, president of the B.C.E.R. They placed before him the seriousness to them of discontinuance of the cars on December 5. Practically 160 families, some of them large, would be affected. Many of them were paying off on their homes. Others had spent the best years of their lives with the company and were getting near pensionable age. If the cars stopped the men would be stranded, as they were unfit for other kinds of employment. If the company would carry on for a few years longer these men would be eligible for pensions, the representatives said.

Mr. Murrin told the delegation he was very sympathetic towards the men. He realized the serious situation, and said it had caused him a great deal of worry. After considerable discussion, Mr. Murrin stated that if it were decided, under improved operating conditions, that the street cars could be run for an extended period of time, some reconditioning by the company would unquestionably be necessary in Victoria.

A period of five years was suggested by the Victoria delegates. Mr. Murrin stated that he would be prepared to do this. The delegates stated this morning that with an annual payroll of approximately $190,000, most of which was spent in the city, they felt they were a great asset. The men pay about $5,000 a year on their homes in taxes. They also felt that the company spent a considerable sum of money in Victoria in material.

"Our company has always paid good union wages, 69½ cents per hour, and treats its employees fairly, and we could not wish to work for a better company," the delegates said. "On Citizens' Day at the fair the company carried over 30,000 passengers without a hitch in service."

With a discussion of the British attitude toward progress. It was the British genius to recognize that whatever social or economic progress was to be made, the individual, because of the diversity of nature, was the foundation with which to deal.

This, he said, was in contradiction to these states where "everything that was not forbidden was compulsory." The British, he said, believed that where obedience to the state was necessary, it showed willing obedience.

The British, he said, had the genius of reconciling the diverse attitude of nations. Some nations dealt too much by logic, others too much by sentiment. Both were necessary although placed side by side they were inconsistent forces.

Turning to the work of the Imperial Institute, Sir Harry said it had 40 scientists at work in its laboratories seeking solutions to problems of the compulsory producers. In its exhibition galleries and cinema, it told the story of the Empire to the rising generation.

More than 500,000 people passed through them each year, half of whom were children. The Canadian court, through diagrams, models and other means, showed Canada in miniature.

The Empire film library was doing an excellent work, he said, circulating 1,600 films to 3,000 schools and societies. Last year's audience for the films was 5,000,000, of whom 1,426,000 saw films of Canada.

"We want more films of Canada," he said. "We have 300 of them now, the largest section except for the United Kingdom, but need more. The government of Canada have assisted us but I am appealing now directly to those who have films of industry and scenery in your country."

"Everybody has tried to convince me, since I arrived, and I am sure it is true, that British Columbia is the garden of Eden of the British Empire," Sir Harry said in expressing his pleasure in addressing the club.

R. A. Woolton, who has a distant relationship to Sir Harry, expressed the thanks of the club to the speaker.

T. W. S. Parsons presided.

Crown Seen as Empire's Pivot

Sir Harry Lindsay, K.C.I.E., Speaks Before Local Business Men

"The crown symbolizes to us just those qualities which have built up the Empire and which we will pass on, not only untarnished, but embellished and ennobled to the future generations," declared Sir Harry Lindsay, K.C.I.E., director of the Imperial Institute, in his address today to a combined luncheon of the Victoria Canadian Club and Chamber of Commerce in the Empress Hotel grillroom.

He was speaking of the British genius for reconciling the diverse characteristics in men and nations, but said British people must keep in mind the things they stood for.

"What is it that unites us? Not our language, altogether, not our race, nor our religion. For we have 350,000,000 Indians out of the 490,000,000 people in the Empire. The crown is the central pivot which unites us all, not as an administrative head, but as a symbol."

Sir Harry's address was entitled "Empire Stocktaking." He explained that the Empire comprised one quarter of the entire human race who occupied one quarter of the land area on the globe.

"WILLING OBEDIENCE" Sir Harry opened his remarks with a discussion of the British attitude toward progress. It was the British genius to recognize that whatever social or economic progress was to be made, the individual, because of the diversity of nature, was the foundation with which to deal.

This, he said, was in contradiction to these states where "everything that was not forbidden was compulsory." The British, he said, believed that where obedience to the state was necessary, it showed willing obedience.

"ANDY" CALWELL PASSES AWAY

Pioneer Transportation Man Succumbs After Lengthy Illness

Alan Andrew (Andy) Calwell, a resident of Victoria for 53 years and one of the pioneers in the transportation business, passed away at an early hour this morning in St. Joseph's Hospital. He had been in poor health for the last seven years, and had spent much of that time in hospital.

Mr. Calwell was born in Toronto in 1877, and came to Victoria in 1885. In 1898, lured by the gold rush, he went to the Yukon and operated a transportation service there. Two years later he returned to Victoria and shortly afterwards started the Cameron and Calwell livery stable on Johnson Street.

About 14 years later, when horse and buggy days were threatened by the progress of the motor car, Mr. Calwell entered the automobile transportation business, and was the principal partner in the firm, which was known as the C. and C. Taxi Co. He was a pioneer in the Nanaimo stages, and was one of the first to enter the up-land motor transportation business.

Mr. Calwell is survived by his widow, at 1045 Rockland Avenue, and four brothers, William in Seattle, Joseph N. at Heriot Bay, Walter of the city detective force and H. E. of the C. and C. Taxi Co. The remains are resting at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Co., and arrangements will be announced later.

Doctors Hear Five Lectures

Two Hundred Medical Men Hear Specialists on Various Diseases

British Columbia's doctors at their annual convention in Victoria listened to five lectures in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel this morning and then adjourned to the lower lounge, where they heard Dr. K. A. MacKenzie of Halifax and Dr. T. C. Routley of Toronto, president and general secretary, respectively, of the Canadian Medical Association, deliver addresses.

Dr. MacKenzie spoke on "Treatment of Hypertension."

Dr. L. H. Newburg, professor of internal medicine at the University of Michigan, spoke on "A new interpretation of diabetes mellitus in obese middle-aged persons—cure by reduction of weight."

Dr. A. T. Bazin of Montreal, Canada's foremost specialist in cancer, spoke to the doctors to-day on "Cancer of the Breast."

Dr. A. R. Kilgore of the University of California, spoke on "Extra-abdominal Diseases Simulating the Acute Abdomen," and Dr. W. J. Boyd of the University of Toronto lectured on "Tumors of the Neck."

All lectures were illustrated by lantern slides, and as the speakers gave highlights of their addresses the 250 doctors, including a number of women, made copious notes. Dr. Gordon Kenning, president of the association, was in the chair.

This afternoon the doctors attended a conference on public health, with Dr. F. Kincaid of Victoria presiding. Dr. Ethlyn Trapp opened the discussion on cancer; Dr. W. H. Hatfield opened the discussion on tuberculosis; Dr. D. H. Williams spoke on venereal disease, and Dr. K. F. Brandon opened the discussion on streptococcal fevers.

In the late afternoon the doctors and their wives motored to "Benvenuto," where they saw the sunken gardens and were received at tea by Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart.

This evening the annual meetings of the B.C. College of Physicians and Surgeons and the B.C. Medical Association will be held.

TURNESA-ABBOTT IN GOLF FINAL

OAKMONT COUNTRY CLUB, Oakmont, Pa. (AP)—Willie Turnesa, 23-year-old star of the golfing Turnesa family of New York, defeated Edwin Kingsley, Magna, Utah, 4 and 3, and Pat Abbott, Hollywood actor, 1 and 1, to advance to the final of the United States amateur golf championship today.

All members of the Victoria Choral and Orchestral Union are reminded that rehearsal will be held in Memorial Hall on Friday evening commencing at 8.30. An invitation is extended to new members. Registration will commence at 8. Members are asked to bring their copies of Mozart's "Requiem Mass" with them.

Milk Pasteurization

Speakers at Medical Convention Say It Is Only Safe Way to Avoid Sickness

Unreserved pasteurization as the only safe and known means of eliminating epidemics caused by contaminated milk, such as undulant fever, scarlet fever and tuberculosis, was advocated by Dr. Howard A. Spohn, chairman of the B.C. Medical Association's public health committee, and Dr. C. E. Dolman, professor of bacteriology at the University of British Columbia, before a meeting of the B.C. College of Physicians and Surgeons yesterday.

British Columbia, Dr. Spohn said, spent a vast sum of money each year on the cure of consumption. He said it would be far cheaper to spend money on prevention, which would include pasteurization.

Just because Canada had escaped terrible calamities from contaminated milk was no reason why the question should be ignored, Dr. Spohn said. He told of the great good done in Ontario by pasteurization, and said "what is good enough for Ontario is not too good for British Columbia."

ONLY SAFE THING

"No one knows how to produce safe milk except by pasteurization," Dr. Spohn said. "It is the safe thing why don't we have it established? Pasteurization is spreading. Even some of the cows have to have pasteurized milk now. If cows have to have it, why can't our children have it? I fail to see one positive reason against it."

Dr. Spohn spoke of the fear of poliomyelitis each year, but said the menace of that disease was much less than that of infected milk. He could not understand, he said, why so much emphasis was laid on infantile paralysis, while the milk situation in British Columbia was so pedaled. He said the time had come to look on the subject in the cold light of science.

"I have been told in private conversation that, while recognizing the value of pasteurization, the way must be paved, 'oh, so gently and carefully'—that municipal councils are against pasteurization—that the public must be gradually educated and conditioned towards pasteurization," Dr. Spohn said.

"But I firmly believe that if the medical health authorities made known to the public all the things that have transpired even in late years in the milk situation—if they would make known some of the dangers we have passed through, more by the grace of God than through medical protective regulations, then a little more rapid progress in the education of the public might be accomplished."

REFUSE RESPONSIBILITY

"It seems to me that when one hears from municipal authorities that the provincial authorities have the power and pasteurization can be put through as a provincial measure, and the provincial authorities say that power has been given by the province to the municipalities and nothing prevents them from proceeding—then I am at least suspicious that the familiar old method of refusing to recognize responsibility is being indulged in—to the impediment of science."

"Let all of us be sensible and renounce political and other astigmatism by looking through the unobfused glasses of cold medical science."

Dr. L. H. Newburgh, professor of internal medicine at the University of Michigan, who is in Victoria to address the British Columbia medical men.

Dr. Dolman said the general argument in favor of pasteurization was borne out by data presented in connection with a study of undulant fever. It was proved beyond a doubt that fever was conveyed by raw milk in Vancouver and district. Instead of enforcing complete pasteurization, he said, efforts had been made to overcome the hazard by elimination of "so-called reactors" from all dairy herds.

Laboratory tests had shown, he said, that this method was not only costly and entailed delays, but was not efficacious.

Dr. Dolman told of the lack of facilities in the Provincial Laboratory in Vancouver, and asked the co-operation of the Medical Association to impress on the government the need for more space.

BOVINE ORIGIN

Dr. Spohn told of the investigation in Ontario of Dr. Marguerite Price in nonpulmonary tuberculosis of bovine origin in children. She had examined 300 children, he said, under 14 years of age and found 45 of them were infected with the bovine type of consumed raw milk and had come from districts outside Toronto, where now 99.8 per cent of the milk was pasteurized and not a single case of bovine tuberculosis infection had been detected.

Examination there of 100 samples of pooled raw milk, before pasteurization, revealed tubercle bacilli in 26 samples. After the same milk had been pasteurized not a single sample was shown to be infected.

"This investigation was unique," Dr. Spohn said, "and constitutes the strongest and most direct evidence of the importance of milk in causing tuberculosis that has ever been forthcoming."

Doctors See New Equipment

At Jubilee Hospital Visiting Medical Men Inspect Operating Rooms

Visiting doctors from all parts of British Columbia, in Victoria to attend the annual meetings of the B.C. Medical Association and the B.C. College of Physicians and Surgeons, spent an interesting and profitable afternoon yesterday at the Jubilee Hospital, where they were shown the modern medical equipment, motion pictures and several demonstrations.

The doctors went first to the main operating rooms and there saw a demonstration of recent equipment for the preparation of hospital intravenous solutions, in charge of Dr. A. B. Nash, assisted by Dr. Donald Vroman, chief interne.

This was of particular interest to the doctors from up-country parts of British Columbia who have not the same opportunity of keeping posted on latest developments as the medical men in the cities.

Dr. H. H. Murphy gave a demonstration of X-ray films and equipment, and Dr. G. A. McCurdy lectured on pathology. Dr. F. Kincaid was in charge of the tuberculosis demonstration in the Pavilion, where there was an exhibit of the provincial organization for the control of consumption, an exhibit of photographs and X-ray films, and an exhibit of pneumothorax and pneumonitis set-up.

Several of the medical men accepted the invitation of the Sisters of St. Ann and individually visited St. Joseph's Hospital where they were shown all equipment, although no group demonstrations were given.

Dr. A. T. Bazin, one of Canada's leading surgeons, who is here from Montreal for the convention.

STRAWBERRY VALE

The monthly meeting of St. Columba Women's Auxiliary was held at Strawberry Vale on Tuesday afternoon. Canon and Mrs. S. J. Wickens attended, the former giving an address on selected portions of the W.A. members' prayer. A report was presented on the garden party held in July in the grounds of Mrs. J. Greenwood's residence, Burnside Road. The sum of $35.85 was realized. The auxiliary accepted with regret the resignation of Mrs. Haley as extra-cent secretary, and Mrs. A. Martin consented to fill this position. A donation of $10 was voted for Canadian friends of China.

FLAG PRESENTATION CEREMONY—On the occasion of the arrival of the Royal Mail motorship Lochavon at the Rithet docks on her maiden voyage yesterday, a Canadian ensign was presented by the City of Victoria to Capt. F. Cooke by Acting-Mayor James Adam. The delegation which boarded the Lochavon for the purpose was representative of the civic, public and transportation life of the city. Front row, left to right: Harold Diggon, Duncan MacBride, president of Chamber of Commerce; Lloyd Craig of the Department of Trade and Tourist Development; R. W. Mayhew, M.P.; Alderman James Adam, Walter Miles, Capt. F. Cooke, commander of the Lochavon; Alderman Archie Wills, Alderman Alex. Peden, George Macdonald, G. A. Yardley, Collector of Customs; G. H. Stevens and Adam P. Moffat, local agent of the Royal Mail.

With the Doctors

Medical men who are here from all parts of the province to attend the annual meetings of the B.C. Medical Association and the B.C. College of Physicians and Surgeons, rounded off a heavy program of lectures yesterday with an informal dance in the Tudor Grill at the Empress Hotel last night.

It was a gathering representative of the medical fraternity of British Columbia. Local doctors and their wives were hosts for the occasion and welcomed colleagues from distant parts. Leaders in the medical profession in the United States and eastern Canada were guests of honor.

Dr. Gordon Kenning, whose successor as president of the Medical Association will be elected tonight, received with Mrs. Kenning.

Perhaps the B.C. doctor who had to travel farthest to reach the convention was Dr. J. B. Hallows of Alexis Creek, in the Cariboo. He had to travel by stage to Williams Lake, where he took the P.G.E. to Squamish and then went by steamer to Vancouver before embarking on Victoria. Alexis Creek is the centre of an extensive ranching country, and has a population of only 55 persons. Dr. Hallows is the medical health officer for the district, and his duties carry him many miles to isolated settlers.

Dr. E. J. Lyon of Prince George and Dr. J. D. Galbraith of Bella Coola are others who traveled long distances to attend the meetings. Dr. A. Frances is here from New Denver, a mining village on the shores of Slokan Lake.

The convention has brought a number of former Victoria schoolboys back to the city, among them being Dr. W. H. White, now practicing in Penticton, and Dr. F. H. Bonnell, who lives in Vancouver.

Dr. Eleanor Riggs of Vancouver, one of western Canada's most brilliant women doctors, is registered for the meetings. She is a daughter of Dr. Herbert W. Riggs, senior surgeon of Vancouver, and is in partnership with her father. She graduated from the medical school of the University of Toronto in 1935.

A number of American doctors are special guests at the convention. Dr. M. W. Jones of Portland, Dr. H. G. Wetherill of Monterey and Dr. Blair Holcomb are attending all functions at the hotel. Dr. L. I. Seamen of Edmonton is also here, as is Dr. Lean Robinson of Banff.

Dr. A. T. Bazin of Montreal, one of the chief speakers at the convention, graduated from McGill 44 years ago, and until his retirement last year was chief surgeon at the Montreal General Hospital. He is a past president of the Canadian Medical Society, and for two years was president of Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada. He is one of Canada's leading surgeons.

Acting Mayor James Adam extended a civic welcome to the visiting doctors yesterday at luncheon in the lower lounge at the Empress Hotel.

Among the local medical men who are on committee to handle various details in connection with the convention are Dr. G. C. Kenning, Dr. C. A. Watson, Dr. H. E. Ridewood and Dr. W. Allan Fraser, registration; Dr. A. E. McMicking, transportation; Dr. J. W. Lennox and Dr. S. G. Kenning, entertainment; Dr. N. C. Cook, commercial exhibits; Dr. C. A. Watson, arrangements; Dr. J. H. Moore, press; Dr. M. J. Keys and Dr. R. Scott-Moncrieff, golf; Dr. F. Kincaid, public health; Dr. P. A. C. Cousland, Dr. A. B. Nash, Dr. W. E. M. Mitchell, Dr. R. L. Miller and Dr. G. A. McCurdy, program.

Leading surgical instrument manufacturers of Canada have exhibits in the lobby of the hotel for the convention.

Additional registrations today for the meetings were made by Dr. Lachlan MacMillan, Vancouver, formerly of Victoria; Dr. H. F. Inglis, Gibson's Landing; Dr. Osborne Morris, Vernon; Dr. J. Bain Tomb, Trail; Dr. W. G. M. Wilson, Kamloops; Dr. F. W. Andrews, Summerland; Dr. F. M. Aul, Nelson; Dr. W. A. Coghlan, Trail; Dr. A. F. Gillis, Merritt.

Sees Disease Stamped Out

Head of Venereal Disease Division Optimistic in Talk to Doctors

Within 10 or 15 years venereal disease should be well under control in British Columbia, Dr. Donald Williams, head of the Division of Venereal Disease of the Provincial Board of Health told visiting doctors at the Jubilee Hospital yesterday afternoon.

"Control will be a big task," he said, "but if we do our work well we shall be out of a job by that time."

Treatment, he said, must of necessity be long and sometimes it was difficult to persuade people who had no symptoms to undergo a year and a half of doctor's care.

Each month, Dr. Williams said, there were 300 new cases reported from all parts of British Columbia. That was a total equal to all the other communicable diseases. There were many other cases that were not reported, he said.

He told of the work now being done on the northern end of the island to co-operate with the local doctors in helping to stamp out the disease and cure those cases at present under treatment.

During the coming winter, he said, the division hoped to have consultants visit more remote parts of the province to assist the local doctors in their care of patients.

A motion picture, showing the treatment of the disease, was shown to the doctors.

Dr. Williams said the functions of the division were to make facilities for treatment of the disease readily available to all infected persons and to prevent the disease spreading to those persons not infected.

Model 126 A.C. 7 Tubes—Full band spread on all short wave bands. Standard broadcast. Six tuning bands. Marconi Automatic 8-button "Electro-Tune" $94.95

Everyone has his own idea of radio perfection. Some like cabinet beauty; others go for easy tuning or revel in engineering precision or are thrilled by super-tone. Marconi genius has combined all these features in its new 1939 models; a feat unparalleled in the history of radio. Marconi sets a new high in value and entertainment. That's why everyone says: "I like Marconi". That's why you'll say it too, when you see and hear the Marconi Console or Mantel masterpiece with band-spreading and automatic tuning, created to fit your budget.

AUTOMATIC TUNING

"Electro-Tune" is a Marconi development of automatic tuning that is instantaneous and simple in operation. Any station can be tuned in automatically by pushing the proper button. Instantaneous in operation—Simplicity of setting—No tools required—Highly efficient—Rapid tuning—Individual tuning of all automatic circuits—Ease of operation.

BAND SPREADING

It is actually easier to tune in short wave on the new Marconi band spread dial than to tune in your local station on standard broadcast. Here's the reason: By opening out the bands, there is now several times more tuning area than on the old hard-to-read dial. Hair-line tuning has been eliminated, making the dial easier to read and the stations easier to locate than ever before.

TALENTED VICTORIA ARTIST-TEACHER WINS FELLOWSHIP—Max S. Maynard, who is seen standing beside one of three murals which he has been painting at Lampson Street School, Esquimalt, left today to take up a fellowship in the English department of the University of Southern California. The three murals are his first work of the sort. A member of the staff of Lampson Street School for several years, he is known in British Columbia as a distinguished artist. Two years ago he won the medal of the British Columbia Artists Exhibition with a painting of Cowichan Lake. The murals at Lampson Street School represent various phases of life in a typical British Columbia Indian Settlement. Mr. Maynard, who is 34 years old, was born in India but came to Victoria at an early age. He was educated at Oaklands School, Victoria High School and Victoria College. He won his B.A. at the University of British Columbia.

Stories of Switzerland

V—THE PRISONER OF CHILLON

In the French section of Switzerland is the city of Geneva, and beside it is a large and beautiful lake. Sometimes the lake is called "Leman," sometimes "Lake Geneva."

A peasant woman in the French section of Switzerland.

Lake Geneva is eight miles wide and 45 miles long. The surface is 1,220 feet above sea level, but the water is extremely deep. At one point the depth is 1,095 feet deep—more than a fifth of a mile. That part of the bottom is only 125 feet above sea level!

A boat trip across Lake Geneva gave me some of the most beautiful views I have seen in my travels. Mountains rise from the shore almost all around the lake.

At the end of the boat trip I reached the "Castle of Chillon." One of its towers has stood there about 900 years, and the other parts of the castle are hundreds of years old.

Following a guide, I went down into a dungeon and saw the place where the famous "Prisoner of Chillon" was once kept. Speaking of the prisoner, my guide said, "He wasn't such a good man as you might think from reading the poem about him."

The poem of which he spoke was written by Lord Byron, noted English poet. Byron told about a prisoner named Francis Bonivard, who was supposed to have suffered prison for the sake of his religion. In real fact, there seems to have been no reason of religion which caused him to be made a captive. Byron, himself, later said he had not known the full truth when he wrote the poem.

At the age of 26, Bonivard seems to have taken part in a plot against the Duke of Savoy. The duke sent men to arrest him and the other plotters. Bonivard put on the disguise of a monk and fled to Geneva, but was captured and for two years was a prisoner at the Castle of Chillon.

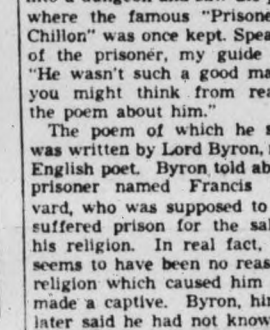

After getting out of prison, Bonivard started a rebellion against the Duke of Savoy. With a small band of followers, he was carried on a kind of warfare—hiding and attacking from ambush. Some of the duke's soldiers were shot down, but the rebellion did not make much headway.

At the age of 37, Bonivard was captured again by the duke's men, and this time he was taken to the Castle of Chillon. For two years he was held there as an ordinary prisoner. Then, for a reason not clearly known, he was cast into the dungeon. He stayed in the dungeon for four years, but was freed when the castle was captured by the enemies of the Duke of Savoy.

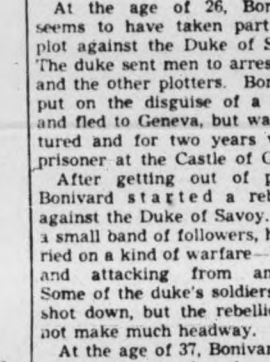

Bonivard's life out of prison brought him almost as many troubles as he had suffered inside. He lived, however, to the age of 77, and wrote two books.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am very fond of my husband, who has always been exceptionally good to me, but I am afraid that we are coming to the parting of the ways because he is not willing to buy flowers to put on the grave of our baby, while he does not hesitate to give money to his little boy, who is a child of his first wife. This child comes to see us two or three times a week and he gives him nickels and dimes, but when I want to buy flowers to take to the cemetery he says it costs too much. This is making me very bitter toward my husband. I cannot stand the thought of my own baby not having flowers on his grave all the time. Don't you think my husband is being selfish and not showing my baby and me the proper respect?

A WEARY MOTHER.

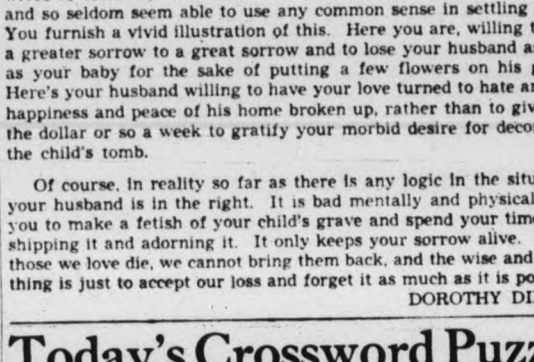

Answer: I think that both you and your husband are acting like a couple of idiots. You are showing little sense in making a great issue out of what is, after all, a small fault on your husband's part, and a fault that comes more from a lack of understanding than from any intentional unkindness. He is showing still less intelligence in not buying for you whatever comfort you can get out of putting a few cents' worth of flowers on the baby's grave.

One of the strangest things about marriage is that husbands and wives so often lose their sense of values in arguing their differences and so seldom seem able to use any common sense in settling them. You furnish a vivid illustration of this. Here you are, willing to add a greater sorrow to a great sorrow and to lose your husband as well as your baby for the sake of putting a few flowers on his grave. Here's your husband willing to have your love turned to hate and the happiness and peace of his home broken up, rather than to give you the dollar or so a week to gratify your morbid desire for decorating the child's tomb.

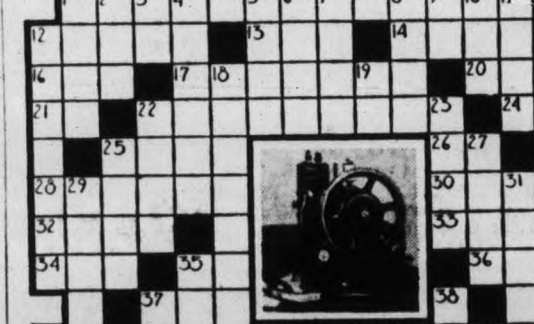

Of course, in reality so far as there is any logic in the situation, your husband is in the right. It is bad mentally and physically for you to make a fetish of your child's grave and spend your time worshipping it and adorning it. It only keeps your sorrow alive. When those we love die, we cannot bring them back, and the wise and brave thing is just to accept our loss and forget it as much as it is possible.

DOROTHY DIX.

Beatty Speaks At Port Arthur

Reiterates Solution of Railway Problem Is Unified Management

PORT ARTHUR, Ont.,—Addressing the combined Chambers of Commerce of Port William and Port Arthur here last evening, Sir Edward Beatty discussed Canada's major problem, the railway situation, as it particularly affected these lake-head cities.

"The inevitable end of any attempt to obtain a real solution of the problem is complete unified management," he said.
"The suggestion of minor cooperative measures has always been a mere stop-gap."

At a recent session of the Senate committee Sir Edward had suggested that an exhaustive estimate of possible savings by unification should be prepared by independent authorities. In the absence of such study he saw no reason to alter his original estimate of a saving of $75,000, 600 per annum in normal times beyond saying that if none of the program of line abandonment indicated by the Royal Commission were carried out, that estimate of savings would be lowered by about 10 per cent.

"Since the law makes cooperative measures compulsory," said Sir Edward, "and as we are in favor of making all possible savings by joint operation, the Canadian Pacific has loyally tried to contribute to their adoption and will continue to do so."

Complete unified management could be implemented with caution, with due consideration for general business conditions and with some attempt to equalize the effect on different communities, while co-operation had to be carried out piecemeal to end ultimately in the same results as can be obtained by complete unification. In the meanwhile we shall have piled on the people of Canada more hundreds of millions of dollars of debts.

"Nothing is delaying economic recovery in Canada, more than fear of increasing taxation of the graver consequences which may follow another decade of unbalanced budgets," Sir Edward said. "The economic revival produced by announcement of a sane and courageous railway policy would so stimulate business as to more than compensate for the necessary sacrifices which we shall, in any event, be forced to make in correcting the effect of past railway extravagances."

Salmon Pack Now 1,134,525 Cases

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia salmon pack for the 1938 season up to September 10 totalled 1,134,525 cases, a slight gain over the total of 1,047,865 cases for the same period last year but 216,974 cases under the 1936 figures, according to the weekly bulletin released today by the chief supervisor of fisheries here.

Following are totals for each type of fish with last year's figures in brackets:

Sockeye 417,099 (313,183);
salmon 13,910 (13,339); steel-heads 790 (694); bluebacks 24,800 (17,861); pike 169,893 (61,757); pinkies 391,837 (493,678); chums 116,286 (147,353).

Wheat Movement

VANCOUVER (CP)—Close to 2,117,000 bushels of wheat today were in store in Vancouver elevators as the result of a recent steady movement of the grain westward. About 600,000 bushels have been loaded outward and ships in port will load another 485,000 bushels.

The first export shipment of 1938 wheat will leave Westminster Saturday when Ms. Martin Bakke will load 950 tons at the Fraser River elevator for the United Kingdom.

Around the Docks

550 SAIL BY CANADA

Approximately 550 passengers will be aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada, Capt. William T. Kinley, when she clears from Victoria at 5.30 tomorrow afternoon for Honolulu and the Orient. Of the total, 107 passengers are bound for Honolulu. Passengers sailing by the Empress of Canada include Baron and Baroness de Lustra, who are proceeding as far as Honolulu; Eric Molter, governing director of Moller's Ltd., Hongkong and Shanghai, with Mrs. Moller and their son, Lindsay; Kenneth F.
Noble, assistant Canadian trade commissioner, and Mrs. Noble; F. X. Corbett, superintendent of Yuman Mines, Manila, and Mrs.
Corbett; J. A. Smith, official of the General Electric X-ray Corporation, Hongkong; Sir Vandeur Grayburn, H. B. Pond, official of the Pacific Commercial Company, Manila; J. A. Curley, official of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., Singapore; W. B.
Spencer, Yokohama attorney; Commander F. R. Davy, managing director of E. D. Sassoon Co., Shanghai; F. Barber, Chase National Bank, Yokohama; A. F.
Peters, manager of the Sun Life,
Manila; George Costello, general passenger agent of the C.P.R. in Hongkong, with Mrs. Costello;
B. C. Ryan, passenger agent for the Canadian Pacific at Yokohama, with Mrs. Ryan, returning to Canada, and six Jesuit priests and two Dominican sisters, returning to missions in Japan.

LIGHT IN OPERATION

The inner lighted beacon at the entrance to the North Arm of the Fraser River has been re-established and the light is again burning, mariners are notified by the Department of Transport.

LAUNCHING SOON

The engines and boiler for the minesweeper Nootka, which will be launched by Yarrows Limited at Esquimalt this month, were delivered here yesterday by S.S.
Bonington Court, in from Montreal to the Vancouver St. Lawrence Line.

The machinery was built by Marine Industries Limited of Sorel, Quebec, and was brought out here via the Panama Canal.
The Bonington Court, after discharging general cargo at the Canadian National docks at Ogden Point, shifted to Esquimalt harbor and unloaded the machinery at the drydock wharf.
The Nootka is practically ready for launching and now that the machinery for the vessel has been delivered, it is expected the minesweeper will be sent down the building ways within a few days.

AORANGI ON TIME

Canadian Australasian motor-liner Aorangi, Capt. T. V. Hill, is steaming right on schedule on her inward voyage from Sydney, Auckland, Suva and Honolulu, and is expected to reach Victoria next Thursday night. She has a large list of through passengers aboard.

On the outward trip, September 28, the Aorangi will carry a special all-inclusive tour party to Australasia. This party will return to this port by the liner Niagara about December 16.

WHARF JOBS LET

Repairs to the ferry wharf at Sidney and renewal of the breakwater at Sidney will be carried out by the Horne-Latimer Construction Co. Limited of Vancouver. The cost of the work will be $6,541.

At a cost of $7,677 the Vancouver Pile-driving and Contracting Co. Limited will overhaul the wharf at Campbell River.

TWO SHIPS LOADING

British freighters Navarino and Wearpool berthed at the Canadian National docks within half an hour of each other last night.
Wearpool, alongside the 1,250-ton berth at Pier A, is loading 1,200 tons of fishmeal for United Kingdom, and Navarino, Capt. Semple, is at the south berth of Pier B, stowing 550,000 feet.

RUSSIA ON MONDAY

Bringing 300 passengers, general cargo and mails, Ss. Empress of Russia, Capt. J. F. Patrick, will reach William Head from the Orient at 6 Monday morning.
James Macfarlane, Canadian Pacific district passenger agent, said today he expected the liner to berth at Pier 2, Ruthe dock, about 7.

Asama Maru Back on Run

N.Y.K. Liner, Saved
From Typhoon, Sails
From Yokohama

After an absence of more than a year from the Pacific trade routes, N.Y.K. motorship Asama Maru, rebuilt after being wrecked by an Oriental typhoon, sailed from Yokohama yesterday for San Francisco, Harry Douglas, local agent for the company, has been advised.

The Asama Maru is due to reach San Francisco September 29. She is commanded by Capt. B.
Kaneko, well-known here and former master of the Hikawa Maru and Heian Maru, operating in the Japan-British Columbia trade.

It was on September 2, 1937, that the Asama Maru was wrecked with 29 other ships when a typhoon of unprecedented force swept over Hongkong. The Asama Maru was cast at high tide on a shoal where she rested on a fairly even keel, with but a six-degree list.

Salvage vessels immediately went to work on the stranded liner. Fresh water and fuel oil were discharged, as were two sets of her four diesel engines, her lifeboats, anchors, chains and furniture, until she could not be lightened any more. Watertight buoyancy tanks were rigged on either side, but still she could not be floated. So a large crew of divers and other workmen went to work to dig the sea bottom out from under her—solid rock, boulders, sand and clay. Dynamite in small charges were used to loosen the rock, first under the port side and then under the starboard side, sandbags and shores being used to keep the ship upright. In a little more than six months a channel four feet deep had been dredged from the bottom beneath the ship and on March 11, this year, aided by the spring's highest tide, the ship was pulled into deep water.

The Asama Maru has been completely refurbished and redecorated and to her safety and navigating equipment has been added the newest in sounding apparatus, a magnetic-striction system of echo-sounding type whereby the depth of the sea under the ship's bottom is automatically recorded on a graph.

LORD STANLEY ABLE TO TRAVEL

British Secretary for Dominions Returning From Winnipeg; Leg in Cast

WINNIPEG (CP)—Lord Stanley, British Secretary of State for the Dominions, left Winnipeg last night for the east. He spent a week in the Winnipeg General Hospital while being treated for a leg injury which cut short a western tour at Banff, Alta.

Miss Jean Carruthers, Winnipeg nurse, accompanied Lord Stanley, still suffering from the leg injury. She will travel with him to England. Dr. G. H. Ryan will accompany him as far as Quebec.

Leaving with Lord Stanley were Lady Stanley and their two sons, Richard and Hugh, and Lord Stanley's private secretary,
D. B. Pitblado.

Hospital officials last yesterday said the leg was in a cast and that Lord Stanley's condition was fairly good.

Tax Changes on Profit Sharing

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States Senator Herring, Democrat, Iowa, disclosed today American treasury experts and aides of a special senate committee were trying to devise tax alterations which would encourage development of industrial profit sharing.

"If we can find a profit-sharing plan that would work in 60 or 70 per cent of United States plants," he said, "we hope to recommend a compensatory tax by the federal government to encourage it."

Such a levy, he said, might exempt from corporation income taxes the portions of profits handed over to employees.

JAIL GUARD INJURED

VANCOUVER (CP)—William
Wells, a guard at Okalla prison farm in adjoining Burnaby municipality, was in a hospital here today with a fractured leg and possible internal injuries suffered last night when his motorcycle and an automobile collided near here.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Weakness at Chicago and optimism regarding the European political situation caused selling surges to push Winnipeg wheat futures from their highs of 2 1/2 cents late today. The close was 1 1/2 to 1/2 cent higher, October at 65 1/2, November 64 1/2, December 64 1/2 and May 67 1/2 to 68.

Good general buying pushed futures up more than a cent at the start and offset profit-taking.
Canadian exports sales were placed at 1,000,000 bushels and it was reported all shippers' offers were accepted at Liverpool had been overnight.

Traders displayed caution due to lack of an official statement on details of Prime Minister Chamberlain's talk with Chancellor Hitler.

Liverpool soared 6 cents and closed with half of the day's gain.
Rotterdam closed 1 1/2 to 3 cents higher. Buenos Aires at noon was 1/2 cent higher and Chicago was strong.

Cash wheat dealings were dull and spreads unchanged. Coarse grains moved in sympathy with wheat.
